Was Teaching Son At Home 'Will Of God'?

Berrien County Prosecutor John Smietanka Wednesday read scripture in Fifth District court in an attempt to show that a Berrien Springs mother was not obeying the will of God when she kept her son out of school last year.

Smietanka read from Romans 13 during a hearing before Judge John T. Hammond on a defense motion to dismiss a criminal misdemeanor charge against Mrs. Judith Waddell, Berrien Springs, of violating Michigan's compulsory school attendance law.

Mrs. Waddell, a Seventh-day Adventist, contends that because of her religious beliefs parents are the only teachers and nature the only text until a child reaches the age of 8 or 10. She testified that was the reason she kept her son, Bret, 7, out of school last year. He is enrolled this fall at the Adventist academy, Berrien Springs.

Portions of the scripture which Smietanka read included: "Let everyone obey the authorities that are over him, for there is no authority except from God, and all authority that exists is established by God."

"As a consequence, the man who opposes authority rebels against the ordinance of God; those who resist thus shall draw condemnation down upon themselves. . . . You must obey, then, not only to escape punishment but also for conscience' sake."

Mrs. Waddell admitted that portion of scripture "would appear to be conflict" with her position against the mandatory school attendance law.

The hearing was recessed yesterday until Oct. 15, when it is expected Mrs. Waddell will again take the stand for re-direct examination by her counsel, Atty. Lee Boothby, of Berrien Springs. Other hearing dates have been set for Oct. 25 and 29, and Nov. 25, according to Judge Hammond.

He noted the prosecution expects to call about 12 witnesses and the defense about nine, and predicted a ruling on the motion probably would not come until next year.

The case is regarded as a test of the constitutionality of the compulsory attendance law.

Mrs. Waddell is charged with keeping her son out of school from Sept. 8, 1974, to Jan. 14, 1975.

Mrs. Waddell, 32, of 110 North Maplewood drive, yesterday reiterated that she taught her son at home instead of sending him to formal school because he was "immature" last year and the belief that a child should be instructed by its mother until 8 or 10.

She told the court her son, now eight, can write a little but "not

Denies Attempt On Husband's Life

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A Jackson woman denied to the FBI Wednesday she tried to take her husband's life at the local Veterans Administration Hospital, where a series of mysterious breathing failures have occurred in recent months.

"I wouldn't do that. I love my husband," said Louise Brower, 78, whose husband, Jeff, 67, is a cancer patient at the hospital.

A respirator being used by Brower was found disconnected Sunday. Hospital officials asked the FBI to investigate, and agents said they were acting on the theory the disconnection was deliberate.

Mrs. Brower, who was visiting her husband along with her stepson and daughter-in-law when the disconnection was discovered, denied she removed the breathing tube.

She claimed instead that a red-haired nurse removed it.

Mrs. Brower said a doctor and two other hospital employees accused her of removing the tube but said she does not know their names.

Mrs. Brower's stepson, Henry Norton, 42, and his wife, Marian, 40, also were questioned by the FBI in the incident. The Nortons, from the Saginaw area, could not be reached for comment.

Dr. S. Martin Lindenauer, hospital chief of staff, said he believes the incident involving Brower is "unrelated to prior events of respiratory arrest which occurred during July and August." More than 50 breathing arrests were reported and 11 patients who suffered the failures died.

Brower is still alive but has been described as "very sick".

Mrs. Brower said two nurses drew the curtain around her husband's bed Sunday and one, the red-haired nurse, removed the tube.

"It was right in front of Henry and me," Mrs. Brower said. "I pulled the curtain back and watched her do it. I know the red-haired nurse did it because I called her and told her to put it back and she wouldn't. She just walked away."

Mrs. Brower said someone called a doctor who replaced the tube, saving her husband.

Lindenauer said no nurses are suspect and the hospital earlier credited quick action by the nursing staff with saving Brower's life.

"There are no hospital employees suspected of intentionally disconnecting the tubing or being negligent in the performance of their duties," Lindenauer said.

He said Brower would have died within three minutes were it not for emergency treatment provided by nurses.

A respiratory therapist making the rounds in the intensive care unit where Brower was a patient discovered the problem, he said.

An alarm, used to alert nurses should the tube become accidentally detached, also was found to be turned off.

The hospital security staff investigated the incident and "effectively identified a potential suspect," Lindenauer said.

"The individual identified had legitimate reason to be in the intensive care unit," he said.

Lindenauer said it was unlikely the breathing device could have been disconnected and the alarm shut off at the same time by accident.

Asked about the alarm, Mrs. Brower said: "The nurse must have disconnected that, too." "I couldn't see everything," she said. "I'm going blind, you know."

Mrs. Brower said she had not signed any papers giving the hospital the right to use the respirator on her husband. But Mark Gullickson, assistant to the hospital administrator, said use of the machine does not require legal consent.

"The hospital has the responsibility to use its judgment. He is our patient," Gullickson said.

FBI agents have been at the hospital since August trying to

ACCUSED: Mrs. Louise Brower, 78, of Jackson, Mich., wiped a tear from her eye Wednesday as she said, "I love my husband." DIGGING FOR BURIED TREASURE: Ruby Clayton digs at what she thinks is Jimmy Hoffa's graveside in Waterford Township outside of Pontiac, Mich., Tuesday. Waiting her turn for the shovel is Lily Goeppert. The hunt for Hoffa's body has turned into a treasure hunt due to a $200,000 reward for the discovery of the whereabouts of James R. Jackson Sits On Hoffa Tip; Feds Angry

DETROIT (AP) — Federal law officials are reportedly angry that Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., kept them from for at least two weeks a tip that the body of former Teamsters president James R. Hoffa is buried in a field north of Detroit.

The federal officials believe the underworld, where the tip was said to originate, is "dupling" Jackson, members of the Senate subcommittee on investigations and the Michigan State Police to get the FBI off the probe of Hoffa's July 30 disappearance, according to a story in today's Detroit Free Press.

Jackson relayed the tip only to Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, who manages Jackson's presidential campaign in the state. Neither the FBI nor the Justice Department was told of the information.

Jackson said he withheld the information because the source asked that the federal officials be left out of it.

The newspaper story quotes a Detroit source close to the federal investigation as saying the FBI and Justice Department officials "are upset because they weren't advised of the tip. But there is even more concern that Jackson and the State Police won't investigate thoroughly, in the way federal officers might, the reasons behind the Hoffa death."

"No one is discounting completely that there is a body buried where the tip says. But we have information that the mob figures it would be better to deal with a localized investigation rather than a large-scale federal investigation into the Teamsters," the source told the Free Press.

Other politicians in Washington have criticized Jackson's handling of the tip.

Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., demanded to know why he, as the ranking minority member of the Jackson subcommittee, was not told of the tip, as required by subcommittee's rules.

Subcommittee investigators learned of the tip in late August. They came to Detroit and began a search in a field in Oakland County last Saturday.

Jackson said he notified Kelley last Friday of the tip. Federal officials did not find out about the information until Saturday.

The Detroit News said Wednesday it has learned that Mafia figures from Detroit, Chicago and New York have been involved in the effort to pinpoint the site of the would-be grave.

The report said a meeting was held 13 days ago between members of the Detroit and Chicago Mafias to plan how to advise authorities where Hoffa's body was buried.

The meeting was supposed to have been insisted upon by Carlo Gambino, reputed head of a New York Mafia family, and regarded as the most powerful mob figure in the United States, the newspaper said.

It was at that meeting the mob decided to find one of Hoffa's killers and relay information extracted from him to the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations.

South Haven Eyes Assaults At Schools

SOUTH HAVEN — City council members met with school officials and concerned citizens in an executive session last night to discuss remedies for preventing assaults at school-related events.

The meeting was sought after youths attending the South Haven high school football game last Friday where assaulted by groups of other youths during and after the game. There were no serious injuries and three juveniles have been petitioned to Van Buren probate court, according to city police.

Patty Hearst, SLA Linked To Violence In Sacramento

By SUSAN SWARD
Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — When two men robbed a small suburban savings and loan office here last February, it looked like just one more neighborhood holdup.

One local newspaper ran a three-paragraph story. The other didn't mention it at all.

Now authorities say the Symbionese Liberation Army may be linked to the Guild Savings and Loan Association holdup last Feb. 25. And the robbery may in fact be part of a growing web of evidence linking Patricia Hearst and her SLA comrades to the Sacramento area in the early months of this year. The possibility that the terrorist band may be responsible for a series of robberies, bombings and other violence drew top prosecutors to an SLA summit meeting Wednesday in San Francisco. When they were finished, there was talk of a potential host of additional charges against Miss Hearst and William and Emily Harris — possibly including murder.

Dwayne Keyes, the U.S. attorney in Sacramento, said evidence was being examined that might link SLA figures to the Guild robbery and a robbery at a Crocker National Bank branch in the Sacramento suburb of Carmichael. In that holdup, a woman was killed by a shotgun blast and four other persons were brutally stomped.

The San Francisco Chronicle reported today that Miss Hearst had been identified as the woman who rented a garage for one of the two stolen getaway cars used in the Carmichael robbery. But the newspaper said it had been told by federal investigators that Miss Hearst's only known active role in the robbery was renting the garage.

The robberies, a bombing, three identification cards and two stolen cars are parts of the puzzle which may place Miss Hearst and the SLA in Sacramento for three to four months.

"It appears these people were in town and were staying somewhere. It is obvious they were in town," said Fred S. Reese, a division chief of the Sacramento County Sheriff's office.

But Reese said he still doesn't know where Miss Hearst and her SLA companions lived in Sacramento. He said investigators were working on numerous leads.

One thing struck investigators as unusual in the $3,729 robbery at Guild Savings and the $15,000 robbery-murder two months later at a Crocker bank branch two miles away in Carmichael: The timetable.

"The suspects were very aware of the time element. They had a countdown," Reese said.

Reese said in the Guild robbery one bandit stood by the door and told his companion "that he had one minute, and began counting off the seconds. When he reached one minute he said, 'Come on. Minute's up."

Hold Trio, Cash In Ann Arbor Abduction

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Two men were arrested in Ohio early today in the abduction of an Ann Arbor, Mich., General Motors executive, his wife and three sons. A third man was arrested Wednesday in Michigan.

The FBI said portions of the $54,400 ransom paid for Tuesday's safe release of the family reportedly were recovered in each of the three arrests.

Edward Hegarty, assistant special agent in charge of the FBI's Cleveland office, said John Todd Szywnelski, 20, and Kenneth J. Royce, 18, were arrested early today.

"Each had substantial amounts of money on their person or in their hand luggage at the time of the arrests," Hegarty said. "We have almost the bulk of the money here and in Edgerton, but I don't know how much they have in Michigan."

Daniel G. Wirth, 20, was arrested in Ann Arbor on Wednesday.

All three men are Ann Arbor residents and lived just a few houses apart on the city's Beaumont street, the FBI said.

Szywnelski was arrested at 3:55 a.m. today in the Cleveland bus terminal, Hegarty said.

in Edgerton, Ohio, after he was stopped on a highway, officials said.

All three men were charged with violating the Hobbs Act, which covers extortion and abduction, the FBI said.

Agents reported a federal detainer charging Royce with violation of the act would be filed today, while Szywnelski was to appear before U.S. Magistrate Herbert T. Maher on a warrant charging violation of the same act.

Wirth was scheduled for an appearance before a U.S. magistrate in Detroit.

Hegarty said the arrests followed a "trail of tedious investigative work" by the FBI, which led agents to the Toledo, Ohio, area early today.

He said the FBI believed Szywnelski boarded a bus in Toledo bound for Cleveland. Agents followed the bus and watched its passengers arriving in Cleveland, where they arrested Szywnelski.

Szywnelski was held in Cleveland, and Royce was held by Williams County deputies in Bryan, Ohio, officials said.

Fugitive warrants were issued Wednesday for the two men.

Wirth was arrested Wednesday about two miles northwest of the home of William Schulenberg, 48, works manager at the GM Hydramatic Division in Ypsilanti.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

More Of Your Neighbors Working For Government

If you ask someone in your neighborhood who he works for and more than likely he'll answer "for the government."

A Michigan State University report and others show there is one government employee for every five households in the state, or one for every 15 residents.

There are more than 583,000 public employees in Michigan, out of an estimated population of just under nine million. The 583,000 does not include regular military personnel or non-profit (and non-taxable) corporation employees.

Also, the ratio of government-employees is much higher than it appears at first glance, because nowhere near 9,000,000 people are employed in Michigan.

For example, subtract 2.1 million K-12 students in the public schools. Take out another 215,000 in non-public K-12 schools. Also subtract a guess-estimated 350 to 400 thousand college and junior college students. And there must be well over a million adults retired, on welfare or too handicapped to work. Plus hundreds of thousands of housewives who do not have outside jobs. In all, you're talking about four million, maybe five million, out of nine million people.

On this basis, perhaps one out of every four to five employed persons is an employee of government. And this doesn't include employees of private contractors and firms that exist by building for or supplying services to government.

As of June 15, the numerical breakdown of government workers was this: 56,700 federal employees; 125,000 state (including colleges); and 401,600 hired by local governments, including cities and counties. The

Buyers Are Turning To Realistic Paintings

If it has been true for many years that art critics rather than those members of the public who buy art works have been determining trends, something of a mini-revolt in the art world may be underway. Artists who deal in realism are finding their works in rising demand, while the abstract artist is still tolerated but with something less than adoration.

It may be true, as some have suggested, that the new turn in art preferences is part of a deeper trend pushing society in a search for old-fashioned values and away from superficial influences. Whatever the cause, the art barometer is rising once again on artists like the Wyeths, Andrew and Jamie.

Increasing interest in realism also might be nothing more than a surfacing of an undercurrent of appreciation which has existed all along, but was smothered to an extent by the choices of a few critics in a few cultural centers.

If that is the case, the patron of the arts is exhibiting a freedom of choice and expression which sometimes has been rare in the world of modern art.

Editor,

We were very happy to hear that the Ross Field Control Tower was to have an open house last Saturday between 1 to 5 p.m., until we got there.

My wife and I had three very disappointed children when the lower told us they could not let us up due to the fact that they were extremely busy and were conducting training.

I am sure we were not the only ones disappointed. One would think that more preparation would have been put into an open house.

EXXON RESPONDS TO EDITORIAL

Editor,

The editorial "Dry Haling Project Independence" (August 9) has come to my attention. While the opening paragraphs of this editorial comment are factual as to the high degree of risk and capital needed under the Bonus Bid system of OCS leasing, I wish to take issue with its conclusions wherein it is stated (the system) "is increasing the major producers dominance and pushing the independent farther from the picture." Additionally, "it is suggested that a better system would be if 'Washington and the prospectors entered into production sharing contracts.' You further conclude that "If oil or gas comes in, the government's share would be higher than the conventional one-sixth or the royalty could be defined in net profit terms."

EXXON believes that it is the business of private industry to explore, develop, and produce oil and gas from both private lands and the public domain. Government's role should be that of establishing the laws and regulations under which private industry will operate, and to justly and impartially administer these laws. The federal government should NOT become directly involved in any operating phase of the effort.

Additionally, the use of cash bonus sealed bids with fixed royalties is the best sales method for government, private industry and the ci-

Livestock Heads Farm Price Jump

WASHINGTON (AP) — Led by hefty gains for cattle and hogs, farm prices jumped 3 per cent last month, reaching their highest average in a year and a half, according to the Agriculture Department.

The department's Crop Reporting Board said Tuesday that its index of prices farmers receive for what they produce rose to 193 per cent of its 1967 base between Aug. 15 and Sept. 15. A spokesman said that was the highest reading since March 1974.

But J. Dawson Ahalt, USDA staff economist, said he sticks by the department's earlier forecast that retail food prices will go up an average of 9 per cent in 1975, compared with gains of 14.3 per cent in each of the previous two years.

Campaign Law: A Legal Mess

WASHINGTON — Dear Federal Election Commission:

"May newspaper subscriptions be paid out of the campaign fund?"

"Does the new Federal Election Law supersede state campaign regulations, or must state laws be adhered to separately?"

"Is there any limitation as to time that contributions can be accepted subsequent to the election?"

The Congressional Record recently carried 22 pages in fine print on questions about, and advisory opinions and notices by, the new Federal Elections Commission — one of a continuing series of such "inquiries" on policies and guidelines.

"Can a wife in a single-income family make a contribution to a candidate if the husband has contributed $1,000?"

"Can a partner, officer or member of a corporation or business holding a federal contract make a personal contribution?"

Though I have spent 24 years studying political campaign laws and practices, I found many of the Commission's regulations and advisory opinions confusing beyond belief.

So, apparently, have experienced congressmen, major old-line political committees and long-time donors — many of whom possess legal training.

The confusion is so general Sen. Lee Metcalf (D-Mont.) was moved to note "the complexities of the ... Act ... suggest that the least of the worries of those seeking political office should be defeat at the polls. Where the greater risk lies (today) is in winning — and then having to devote the bulk of one's time for the next two to six years to continuing analysis of campaign laws and regulations."

"The list of those writing in for information on how the clean election law works, in fact, is beginning to read like a roster of the Senate and House of Representatives. This makes one wonder how these men were able to vote intelligently on the bill as it moved through their hands."

"An office holder mails out newsletters during regular intervals under a franking privilege, but the printing expenses of the newsletters are paid for by a committee ... Are such expenditures permissible ...?"

Are expenses such as lunches in Washington for constituents "ordinary and necessary expenses incurred in connection with my duties as a federal office holder?"

Are the costs of voter opinion surveys counted against the campaign expenditures of an incumbent senator?

"Are expenses incurred by a candidate for legal and accounting fees paid for the purpose of complying with the Federal Election Campaign Act ... expenditures for the purpose of a candidate's campaign expenditures limit?"

May a member of Congress be reimbursed for travel expenses he incurs in connection with political appearances in his congressional district?

These are the least complicated of the questions being asked. To outline the more difficult would take more space than this column has available.

The plain and simple fact is that this is an impossible law, so contradictory, so filled with loopholes, and so intricate that it will be necessary to devote an encyclopedia of regulations too detailed for any candidate to understand even when advised by legal batteries.

Wanted: Firmness At The Center

We have come to take it for granted that toughness and determination exist on the political extremes, both left and right. Out there, things are "non-negotiable." We do not expect to find those qualities at the political center. Yet this was not always true in the past and it is a bit puzzling why it seems to be true today.

I have been doing a good deal of work recently on the period of the American Revolution, and it is this research that has led me to focus on that question.

In Chile, the final crunch pitted Allende and his armed and determined Marxists against the equally tough and armed authoritarian nationalists. The nationalists prevailed and promptly set up the present dictatorship. The moderate parties of the political center, notably including the Christian Democratic Party that had exercised power for years, more or less retired from politics. The political center was a spectator first at the attempted revolution and then at the successful counter-revolution.

But in terms of self-interest, the political center had everything to lose from a Marxist takeover. Why did the centrists leave it to the authoritarian right to defeat the Marxists?

Olaf Palme, the socialist Prime Minister of Sweden, recently remarked concerning Portugal that the road from "Prague" to "Santiago" is a short one. He had a point. Both Communism and authoritarian nationalism are potent realities. The center is not.

George Washington, like all of the other principal American leaders, was a man of "law" and "reason." He was a moderate and cultivated man, even a man of the establishment. In contrast to Marat or Robespierre on the revolutionary left, in contrast to the exponents of royal absolutism on the other, Washington was a man of the political center.

But if Washington was

UP TO $4 MILLION

V-M Could Get U.S. Loan

V-M Corp. of Benton Harbor has been certified as eligible to apply for federal trade adjustment assistance that could total up to $4 million in government and government-guaranteed loans.

The U.S. Department of Commerce announced the certification of eligibility for assistance under a program designed to assist in the recovery of firms which have been adversely affected by foreign product imports into this country.

The record-changer company applied for the certification, according to Charles L. Smith, acting deputy director of the Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance in Washington.

Victor Miller, V-M president was out of town and not available for comment on the possible implications for his firm.

Recently the Commerce department had announced that some 200 employees of V-M were certified as eligible for individual assistance under the Trade act of 1974 because foreign imports caused them to become unemployed or employed only part-time. They could qualify for payments of up to 70 per cent of their

The Commerce department said that for the firm to qualify for assistance it must submit a recovery plan to the Economic Development Administration and win EDA approval for the plan.

Under terms of the Trade act, Smith said V-M could qualify for a direct government loan up to a maximum of $1 million, and for a government-guaranteed loan from commercial credit channels up to a maximum of $3 million. The Trade act provides the company could also receive technical assistance with its recovery plan.

Dead Boy's Father Fined

A father whose pistol caused the death of his 14-year-old son Sept. 13 in an accidental shooting was sentenced in Berrien Fifth District court Wednesday for possession of that unregistered gun. Simon Garcia, 38, Eau Claire, pleaded guilty to the charge and paid a fine and costs of $150. The son, Albert M. Garcia, died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the chest from the .38-caliber revolver. Berrien sheriff's deputies reported at that time the boy had apparently found the gun under the front seat of the family car. The shooting occurred on the Clayton Layman farm on M-140 near Berrien Center where the family was living. They were identified as migrant farm workers.

Rabbi Will Instruct Jewish Students At Catholic School

Rabbi Harold Berman of Temple B'Nai Shalom, Fairplain, will teach Jewish students religion at Lake Michigan Catholic high school. Principal Donald Stock told the Catholic board of education last night.

Stock said Rabbi Berman will conduct the classes Mondays and Thursdays for five Jewish students. The rabbi has religious classes at B'Nai Shalom, but it will be more convenient and serve his high school age students better by holding the classes at Lake Michigan Catholic in St. Joseph.

Rabbi Berman's teaching time will be donated. Stock said Lake Michigan Catholic has a policy that non-Catholic students take at least one half-year of religion unless they are enrolled in classes in their own church.

School Executive Director Raymond Jordan reported final enrollment as 845. That includes 410 in high school, 232 in the middle school and 203 in the kindergarten to the fifth grade. Stock noted this is the third consecutive year the high school enrollment has increased. It was 406 last year.

Stock reported Mary Wilhelmson, principal at Gard school, had conducted a workshop for student members of the Christian Community Service group. Students in that organization assist Gard school teachers in teaching retarded youngsters to swim.

Middle school principal Robert Schmid said the sixth annual camp-out will be Oct. 13-17 at Camp Makisabee near Eau Claire.

Ronald Demblowski, tri-parish confraternity of Christian Doctrine (CCD) director, reported religion classes for Catholic students enrolled in public schools began last week.

Many classes are filled to capacity, he said.

Members of the CCD advisory committee which will serve as a liaison board include Edward Irvin, chairman; Mrs. Harold (Joyce) Staek, vice chairman; and Mrs. Larry (Dena) Kinney, secretary.

Principals for CCD programs Saturdays at the various schools are Mrs. Larry (Judy) Chambers at the Stevensville annex; Mrs. Michael (Doreen) Baker of St. Bernard's; Mrs. Ronald (Judy) Clark, St. John's; and Mrs. Les (Renee) White, St. Joseph.

Coordinators are Mrs. Kinney for kindergarten through third; Mrs. Baker for the fourth through sixth grades and Robert Gebhardt, 7-12.

BHEA Aims At Recall Of School Board

By JIM DELAND
Assistant City Editor

Benton Harbor teachers will return to the bargaining table Friday while at the same time launching a recall campaign aimed at certain members of the board of education.

Both actions were announced by Mrs. Camilla Hunt, president of the Benton Harbor

Student Accused Of Hitting Teacher

A Benton Harbor high school student was arraigned in Berrien Fifth District court Wednesday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon against a teacher at the high school Tuesday.

Larry A. Johnson, 17, of 1250 Highland avenue, Benton township, demanded examination on the charge and was jailed in lieu of posting $3,000 bond. He also faces a misdemeanor charge of trespassing in connection with the incident.

He is alleged to have struck Bela W. Lindenfeld, a psychology teacher, with a 3½-foot club on, returning to the school grounds after having been suspended earlier for threatening teachers and disobeying orders.

Wallace Dunn, high school principal, said Johnson had been brought into his office shortly after 1 p.m. Tuesday by Lindenfeld and another teacher for being in the school building when he did not have a class. Dunn said he was suspended when he attempted to walk out of the office while Dunn was talking with him.

Lindenfeld said he had gone outside the school building on the Empire avenue side when the assault occurred. Lindenfeld reportedly sought his own treatment for minor injuries.

City police arrested Johnson shortly after the incident on the trespassing charge. The assault charge was authorized Wednesday by the Berrien prosecutor's office.

Dunn said Johnson has been suspended indefinitely and a hearing would be held within 10 days on the matter among school officials, the student and his parents and legal counsel if the parents desire.

The original police report said two teachers had been assaulted but further investigation showed one.

As the result of another separate incident outside the high school Tuesday, three young men pleaded guilty Wednesday in Berrien Fifth District court to charges of disorderly conduct.

Paying fines and costs of $31 each were:

Jerry Marshall, 18, of 670 Madison, Benton Harbor, charged with creating a disturbance; Robert E. Williams, 17, of 822 Pavone, Benton Harbor, charged with loitering; and Lonnie Patterson, 18, of Edwards road, Sadus, charged with loitering.

Education Association and chief negotiator for the teachers, following a two-hour faculty meeting Wednesday afternoon.

"We don't think this board is doing anything for the students," Mrs. Hunt said, adding that teachers were prepared to go "the whole legal route" to force a recall election. She admitted the recall campaign stemmed from teacher frustration over the failure to negotiate a new master contract, but said it was not a tactic designed to force contract talks.

"This is definite," she said. "We'll go through with the recall plans whether we get a contract Friday, Saturday, Sunday...or whenever."

Atty. Darrell Jacobs, chief negotiator for the school board, agreed last night to the teachers' request for a resumption of negotiations, which are scheduled for 4 p.m. Friday at the central administration offices, 711 East Britain.

Another bargaining session for next Tuesday previously had been called by state mediator Howard Case in an attempt to break an impasse over non-economic issues.

Mrs. Hunt declined to specify which members of the school board would be targets of the recall effort, saying only that it involved more than one member but not the entire board.

Board members include E.E. (Bill) Bentley, Frank Culby, Philip McDonald, Mrs. Janet Scott, Bernard Beland, Mrs. Irene Fox and Melvin Farmer, Jr.

Mrs. Hunt said Rick Garrison would direct the recall campaign, which will begin with a

Arbitration Panel Ready To Decide Apple Prices

BY NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

A panel of arbitrators, called to break the apple price deadlock between growers and processors, was scheduled to meet at the Berrien county courthouse this morning.

After hearing testimony, the panel by law must choose either the asking price of the Michigan Processing Apple Growers or the final offer of Michigan Fruit Canners, according to Thomas Moore, administrator of the Michigan Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining board.

Binding arbitration is required this year in Michigan because the Growers, bargaining agent for the state's larger growers, and processors failed to agree on the price for apples from the expected 17 million bushel crop. A huge U.S. processing crop is at the heart of the dispute.

Under the Michigan Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Act, a panel consisting of one man appointed by the Growers, one appointed by the processors and one upon whom both agree settles price disputes.

Since the 10 processors who are buying apples from members of the Growers each made different final offers, there will be 10 different settlements, according to Moore.

The panel will hear the dispute with Michigan Fruit Canners in the morning, then hear from fruit Pak (formerly Pearl Grange Fruit Exchange, Bainbridge township) in the afternoon, Moore reports.

Two more settlements will be made Tuesday at Grand Rapids, according to the panel's schedule. Others are expected to follow next week.

Moore said that possibly the decisions made today will be kept secret "in fairness to the processors not yet heard from."

In the Michigan fruit Canners settlement, the committee will consist of Fred Foster, of Michigan Fruit Canners, named by the company, Robert Bradeh, of Michigan Farm Bureau, appointed by the Growers, and George McIntyre, retired director of both the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the extension service, agreed upon by both parties.

"The Growers' final offer asks, per hundredweight of U.S. 1 processing grade apples, 2½-inch-up: Spys $4.75, hard sauce and slicers $3.75, McIntosh and other soft sauce apples $3.25, juice and undersized $1.75.

Michigan Fruit Canners, for the same grade fruit, offers: Golden Delicious, Spys and Northwest Greening $2.75, Jonathan $2.50, other hard apples $2.25, McIntosh and other soft varieties $2.

SJ Scout Paper Drive

Boy Scout Troop 017 of E.P. Clarke school, St. Joseph, will conduct a paper drive Saturday. Anyone wishing to donate old newspapers or magazines should drop them off between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the St. Joseph Public-Works department or one of four schools — Clarke, North Lincoln, Lakeshore high or Fairplain junior high.

Maiden Lane To Be Closed

Maiden lane between the Red Arrow highway and Cleveland avenue near the Bendix Hydraulics division plant will be closed to through traffic next Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 6 and 7, so that railroad crossing repairs can be made, according to a field supervisor for contractors performing the work.

Ray Given New Term On Council

James Ray, principal at Benton Harbor's Bard elementary school, has been reappointed to the Advisory Council for Compensatory Education Services by Dr. John Porter, state superintendent of public instruction.

Ray, who joined Benton Harbor schools in 1965 as a teacher, served on the council as Michigan Association of Elementary School Principals representative last year.

The council advises the Michigan department of education compensatory services staff on matters relating to administration of state and federal

Working Open House At Tower

The Federal Aviation administration control tower will be in full operation during the open house scheduled for 1 to 5 p. m. Saturday at Ross field, the Twin Cities airport. The open house will mark the start of the third year of operation for the $200,000, 66-foot high facility. James L. Campbell, control tower chief, said conducted tours of the facility will be held during the open house. Air traffic controllers will be talking to pilots during the open house.

The complex electronic equipment will be explained. The tower recorded over 50,000 operations — either landings or take offs — during the past 12 months. A Pilot-Controller forum is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 7 in the Modern Plastic hangar as part of the open house program, Campbell said.

BUILDING REPLACED: Metal building 66 by 112 foot has been erected by Pearson Construction company, Benton Harbor, for Modern Wood Products, Inc., 2944 Coloma road, Riverside, replacing 66 by 82 foot structure destroyed by fire last May. Metal building was added to former block building for a shop area. Company makes kitchen cabinets. Estimated cost of new structure is $35,000. (Cliff Stevens photo)

Attention: Future Brides

Brides-to-be planning engagement announcements and wedding stories in this newspaper are asked to observe the following rules:

Engagement and wedding forms are available in the women's department at The Herald-Palladium offices in Benton Harbor or St. Joseph.

The pertinent information should be typed or plainly printed in filling out these forms to prevent errors.

Wedding forms should be picked up at least two weeks and turned in one week before the wedding is to take place.

When wedding information is sent within two months of the engagement announcement date, only ONE picture will be run. The bride-to-be may have her choice.

Use proper names — not nicknames. In wedding information, use husband's names for married attendants.

Only pictures of the bride in her wedding dress will be used. Formal glossy black and white portraits are preferred.

Engagement and wedding pictures are usually available at this newspaper office after publication for a short time.

Ethnic Foods Popular

The Americanization of ethnic foods is happening fast in this country so take a good look around next time you're in that section of the grocery store.

American kitchens are turning out over $800 million worth of Italian foods per year with pizza mixes and frozen pizzas topping the list. Mexican foods are getting hotter too, with total consumption leaping up by over 16 percent during the past years.

Don't forget the chopsticks, either, for low cost oriental dishes are adding more color and variety to our tables too.

If you've not tried some of the many different combinations, take a good look next time you shop and give them a whirl yourself.

Monday Musical Season
To Begin With Luncheon

Monday Musical club will open its 1975-76 season with a salad buffet and meeting Monday, Oct. 6, at 12:30 p.m. at the First Congregational United Church of Christ, St. Joseph.

The buffet will be hosted by the board of directors and theme for the program will be "America, Then and Now." Mrs. Harold W. Fowler is program chairman.

Featured in the program will be Daira Langens, pianist.

Mrs. Langens is a teacher at Lake Michigan college and has presented concerts in Chicago, Kalamazoo, Saginaw, Philadelphia, and at Carnegie Hall in New York. She holds a master of music degree in piano performance from Andrews university.

Eight members of "The Dancing Squares" will also perform. They will perform an old fashioned square dance, a modern square dance and will give a short demonstration of typical square dance steps.

Dancers will be Kathryn and Nel Turner, Dorothy and John Gieszer, Marcia Kasischke and William Hill and Willa and Lewis Relf. Mary Noe will be commentator.

A vocal trio composed of Myrth Kremers, Mary Lou Oppenorth and Cathy Williamson will perform folk, Southern and Western songs. Mrs. Oppenorth and Mrs. Williamson will also be soloists.

Mrs. Kremers holds a bachelor of music degree from Western Michigan university. She is a private voice teacher and has taught in area systems. She has also performed as a soloist for various area musical organizations.

Mrs. Oppenorth has studied locally with B. Jean Johnson and is a member of the Fairplain Presbyterian church choir and the Cathedral Choral Society.

Mrs. Williamson is working towards her master's degree in music at Western Michigan university. She has performed many times locally and is a member of several of the area's vocal music organizations.

The trio will be accompanied by Esther Shoemaker.

Mrs. Shoemaker is a member of Monday Musical club and serves as advisor to the Junior Monday Musical club. She is accompanist for the Lake Michigan college concert choir and is organist at St. Augustine Episcopal church, Benton Harbor.

Chairmen for the meeting are Mrs. David Williams, reception; Mrs. Earl Place, luncheon; Monday Musical board, menu, and Mrs. Wesley Caple, decorations.

NATIONAL FAMILY SEX EDUCATION WEEK

Planned Parenthood Open House

Dr. Elizabeth Mooney, well-known sex educator associated for many years with the Institute for Sex Research in juvenile study at Indiana university, will be keynote speaker during Planned Parenthood Association of Southwestern Michigan's observance of National Family Sex Education Week Oct. 6-12. Dr. Mooney will speak on "The Trouble With Adolescents" Tuesday, Oct. 7, at 4 p.m. at the Center, 785 Pipestone street, Benton Harbor.

Parents, educators, agency personnel and the public are invited.

Also in observance of the week there will be a film festival Monday, Oct. 6, and Wednesday, Oct. 8, from 4 to 9 p.m. Seventeen films will be featured on a staggered schedule so viewers may attend when convenient.

Planned Parenthood Center will also hold an open house Thursday, Oct. 9, from 2 to 6 p.m.

The Center was purchased by the Berrien county board of commissioners last December and the staff moved into the building in February. The building houses administrative, outreach and educational facilities and provides a comfortable, relaxed atmosphere for teen raps and educational and training sessions.

According to Dr. Mooney, a counselor at Planned Parenthood of Kalamazoo county, "With an honest approach to sex education in the middle and secondary schools of our country we can narrow the hypocritical gap between our pronouncements and our actions."

"The next generation will have to fight through another mess we left for them if sex education is not provided."

Dr. Mooney says the first responsibility of the school in the area of sex education is to train and employ teachers who know their task and accept it with grace. The second responsibility is to recognize the community, its class stratification and ethnic structure. And finally, the responsibility is to get started.

In years past, according to Dr. Mooney, there has been a renewed effort to put sex education into the public school. An effort was made in the 1920's and again in the 1940's.

She said the efforts in the 1940's were more successful than the efforts in the 1920's, but both programs failed to have any great impact because the scope of the programs was too limited.

Dr. Mooney says that the responsibility of parents is to present the first sex information to the child as the child asks for it and to provide an atmosphere which encourages questions and discussion of sexual matters just as other subjects are discussed within the family setting.

Dr. Mooney was educated at Beloit college and the University of Wisconsin. She has had experience in teaching and in psychotherapeutic practice and is a consultant at the Indiana university school of education and IU student health service.

Planned Parenthood Association of Southwestern Michigan was originally formed in 1968 as Twin Cities Area Planned Parenthood Association, Inc. The name and scope were changed in 1971 to cover Berrien, Cass and Van Buren counties.

It is a private, non-profit organization whose intended purpose is to assure that accurate and intelligent information about family planning is available in the three counties.

The organization, a certified medical affiliate of Planned Parenthood Federation of America, provides a family planning program. Its objects include providing better health for mother and child and economic stability for entire family, particularly during children's young years.

Family planning provides health, social and cost benefits.

Health benefits hoped for by Planned Parenthood include lower infant mortality rate, less possibility of premature birth, help in treatment of ailments, help in maintaining mental and emotional health, prevention of high risk births and better health for society.

Social benefits are help prevent illegitimacy, help prevent too-early parenthood with consequent problems for parents and child, enable young girls to finish schooling, break cycle of poverty and welfare dependence, contribute to freedom for women and way to prevent abortions.

One dollar spent this year on family planning will save the government $2.50 next year in cost of medical care and public assistance alone, according to Planned Parenthood spokesmen. Another cost benefit is that family planning costs not more than $80 a year for a woman while welfare for one child will total $18,000 until of age, they say.

Also included in the family planning program are regularly scheduled clinics provided by the health departments of Berrien and Cass counties in Benton Harbor, Niles, Cassopolis and Dowagiac, and by Van Buren county in Hartford and South Haven.

Clinics offer family planning education and discussion; physical examination by a doctor; counseling on all modern methods of birth control including private instruction by a doctor or nurse on how to use method selected; provision, without charge, of the particular method selected, and consultation with social worker.

Services are available to all men and women. Parental consent is desirable for those under 18.

In addition to medically prescribed birth control and vasectomy, the program offers pregnancy testing, infertility service, sickle cell testing, counseling, tubal ligation referral and medical and social referrals to all agencies in the community.

According to the Michigan Department of Health, 590,000 women in Michigan need family planning services yearly. Berrien, Cass and Van Buren have 17,723 requiring these services.

As a new clinic in 1969, the Benton Harbor clinic served 193 patients in 10 months. In 1974, there were six clinic locations providing 10 sessions weekly and serving approximately 6,000 patients.

Money to operate the program comes from local, federal and state funds. Planned Parenthood of Southwestern Michigan funds are derived from contributions by local citizens, foundations, organizations and special fund raising events. The only fees charged in the entire program are for the vasectomy clinic, where fees are charged according to ability to pay.

Say Women Are Better About Car Repairs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Car-repair bills might be lower if husbands let their wives take ailing autos to the garage, a female transmission expert suggests.

Men are often hesitant to show how little they know about their cars, and in an effort to hide their ignorance they may agree to whatever repairs a mechanic advises, says Lucille Treganowan, who operates "Transmissions by Lucille" in suburban Penn Hills.

"This makes a man more vulnerable to rip-offs than their wives, who aren't hesitant to ask 'dumb' questions," said Mrs. Treganowan, also a member of the Pittsburgh chapter of Automotive Service Councils of America.

Mrs. Treganowan teaches powder puff courses on auto mechanics and she says her students "would walk out if a garage repairman makes a decision without first checking their car." In an effort to show the public that most auto repair shops have integrity despite the shoddy practices of a few, the council is encouraging consumers to be more selective about who works on their cars.

Frank Gentile, president of the local council, said the organization is policing its own people. The group is made up of experts in every facet of auto repair — transmission, radiator, air conditioning, body work, mechanical and glass, he said.

The local chapter, which covers Allegany county, recently established a consumer review board made up of the county Bureau of Consumer Protection and a private group called the Alliance of Public Affairs.

"We wanted to remove the black eye so many back alley garages have given the industry," said Milo Carlson, chairman of the council's auto body repair council.

"The review board gives patrons of a shop access to impartial review procedure to help resolve his complaints," Carlson said.

If the review board finds a member shop wrong in a dispute, the shop must correct the problem or face expulsion from the council.

"Most complaints have been settled amicably. Good members don't want to be thrown out," Gentile said.

Mrs. Treganowan said the service council is also pressing for legislation to require the licensing of repair shops.

"As it stands now, anyone who wants to can hang up a sign. Until there is such legislation, we're trying to clean up the industry ourselves," she said.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Let Him Be A Jackass

Dear Ann Landers: What can a secretary do about a boss in his 50s who is making a jackass out of himself? He is chasing around with some young idiot who works in this office and everyone is laughing at him behind his back.

These two fools have picnic lunches in parks which are public, yet they think nobody sees them. They ride around together during office hours (he also drives her home) and they act like the whole world is blind, deaf and dumb.

Last Thursday he told me he was taking off from noon till 4:00 p.m. to call on an account in a neighboring state. The idiot went with him. When his wife phoned ten minutes later, I felt like a traitor because I didn't tell her the truth.

Should I face up to my Christian duty and tell him to shape up? Or should I keep my mouth shut? — Secretary To A Nut

Dear Sec: Who anointed you, anyway? Since when is it your Christian duty to tell anyone to shape up? MYOB, Lady. If your boss persists in behaving like a jackass, he'll pay the price. There's no such thing in this life as a free lunch.

Wounds Fresh

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is sort of selfish.

Your Birthday

Oct. 3, 1975

This coming year is not the time to give up on projects that have been slow to yield the type of results you've hoped for. Keep plugging. The end is now in sight.

Please don't think I'm a rotten kid but I need someone to help me think this through.

Two months ago Dad died of cancer. He and Mom had a great marriage. There are two kids in our family besides me (I'm 15). The youngest is a boy, nine. Mom is 38 but she looks very good for her age.

Last night my kid brother asked Mom if she would ever marry again. At first she seemed sad; then said, "You might think this sounds strange but I would like to marry again because I had such a good life with your father. I'd hate to live the rest of my days alone. It would be sort of a put-down to him."

My brother started to cry and said, "Gee, Mom, how could you ever let another man take Dad's place?"

I'm ashamed to admit I felt the same way. If we are wrong will you say something to straighten us out? Thanks, Ann. — We Miss Him Awfully

Dear Miss Him: Two months isn't very long. The wounds are still fresh. But they will heal. And as time goes on you children will want your mother to have a full life. For a woman who has had a happy marriage, it usually means another marriage.

No one will ever be able to take your dad's place, but surely you would be pleased if a kind, considerate man came along and could fill the lonely void in your mother's life. Save this column and read it again one year from now.

A New Day

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell those cheapies who squeeze a nickel so hard the buffalo gets a headache there's a new day a-dawning. The U.S. postal authorities have finally put an end to their sweet little racket. No more dropping letters unstamped into mail boxes and sticking the guy at the other end.

As one who has worked for a gas and light company for several years, I can tell you we were stuck plenty at the end of every month because people knew we'd pay the postage due on their checks if we had to. So they never bothered to put on a

ANN LANDERS

Dr. Lester Coleman

My friends and I have smoking pot for four years, through high school and most of college. Not one in the group has ever had signs of the effects that you and others write about. Why don't you leave us alone?

Miss H.M., III.

Dear Miss M.: As a physician interested in the welfare of my patients and my readers, I cannot "leave you alone" without feeling remiss in my responsibility.

I am afraid that your small group of "statisticians" cannot use their scientific material on marijuana that exists today. Furthermore, you are not yet able to tabulate what the future may hold for you.

My antipathy to marijuana is based on solid evidence that it is a harmful and dangerous drug. Let me quote from a recent study report in the journal of the American Medical Association. The authors, Dr. Harold Kolansky and Dr. William T. Moore, of the University of Pennsylvania, say:

"The physician should not be apathetic about the current marijuana epidemic. By familiarizing himself with the results and potentials of marijuana's toxicity, he is in a uniquely effective position to act as the spearhead in a coordinated community effort to prevent the extension of the cannabis (marijuana) epidemic."

stamp.

I hope this news reaches all who haven't as yet caught on and are still playing those cheap little games. — Last Laugh Lulu sense of timing and depth perception, which can make automobile driving extremely hazardous for the driver and others.

Dear L.L.: I'm right with you, Sister. Our office used to get stuck for two-pound manuscripts, 20-page letters — just name it and we paid the postage. But no more. Anything that isn't properly stamped ends up in the dead letter office.

How to — and how much? Find out with Ann Landers's new booklet, "How, What and When to Tell Your Child About Sex." For your copy, send 50 cents in coin along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois, 60120.

The sense of tranquility that may accompany this can be risky. Spans of attention are reduced, along with the inability to make objective, well-balanced decisions.

Marijuana is a drug — a potentially dangerous drug — that undeniably affects the body tissue and psychological stability.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH... People on a restricted salt intake must remember that carbonated drinks contain salt.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has prepared a special booklet entitled "What to Do About Ulcers." For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lester L. These studies substantiate the fact that dangerous bodily changes, particularly within the brain, can result from smoking the drug.

Even occasional use of the drug, "just to be sociable," can blunt the reflexes, alter the

DRAFT RIOTS

When the United States government enacted the first conscription act, there were draft riots in New York in 1863.

October Market Tips

Broiler-fryers should be used one to two days after purchase or frozen for late-in-the week use.

When you get the bird home from the store, loosen the package wrapper or rewrap the chicken loosely in waxed paper or foil. Store in the refrigerator. If you can't use them in one to two days, wrap in heavy duty foil or special freezer wrap and store in the freezer.

If you're interested in only a squirt or two or lemon juice at a time, heed this interesting note. First, roll the lemon around on a hard surface to break the inside juice sacs. Then, poke a hole in the lemon with a toothpick. Remove the toothpick and squirt the juice out.

When you're through squirting, replace the toothpick and store the lemon (with toothpick) back in the refrigerator until you need another squirt. Quality of the lemon is much improved with this method.

To help cut food costs, many more folks are turning to economical nonfat dry milk. You can easily trim baking and cooking costs by using nonfat dry milk in most recipes calling for milk, even if you don't choose to use it for drinking.

In baking, add dry milk to the recipe's dry ingredients and substitute water for the liquid measure called for in the recipe.

If the nonfat dry milk package directions calls for one-third cup nonfat dry solids to make one cup liquid, add that amount to the dry ingredients in the recipe and then add one cup of water in place of the one cup milk called for in the recipe.

How much food does your family eat? In just one year, the average American family eats 5,288 pounds of food. These USDA figures show that the total include 696 pounds of meat and fish, 598 pounds of fruit, 1,136 pounds of dairy products, 1,154 pounds of vegetables, 592 pounds of grain products and 349 pounds of poultry.

Microwave Oven Skillets

A small round browning skillet and a larger companion piece are designed for use with microwave ovens.

A special material in the bottom absorbs microwaves and converts them to heat making it possible to sear, grill, saute, fry and bake.

Both pieces come with glass lids. With microwave cooking, burnt-on foods are a thing of the past. Dishwashing is a simple matter of using hot suds and rinses.

Escape Plan Fails; Inmates Free Three

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — Two federal reformatory inmates, with the help of a girl friend who allegedly smuggled them pistols, held three persons hostage for 10½ hours before surrendering and releasing their prisoners unharmed.

Warden Tim Keohane said the inmates were talked out of their bid for release from the Federal Youth Center by "a steady effort on our part that nobody was going to beat them up."

Paul Ortiz, a counselor at the reformatory who participated in the negotiations, said, "We convinced them there was no way out."

The inmates' bid for release from the center, a correctional facility for youthful offenders located about 15 miles southwest of Denver, began shortly after noon Wednesday when the woman arrived to visit the inmates. Authorities said the lack of a search procedure for visitors enabled her to bring in three guns concealed in her purse.

The hostages — a reformatory guard, an inmate and the inmate's mother — were forced at gunpoint to lie on their backs on the floor of the visiting room the entire time, officials said.

The inmates were identified as Alfred Smith Rollins, 19, of Kansas City, serving a sentence for bank robbery as a juvenile; and Henry Michael Cassidy, 20, a Blackfoot Indian from Missoula, Mont., serving a term for burglary on an Indian reservation.

The FBI identified the woman, Nancy Ann Shupe, 19, of Denver, as Cassidy's girl friend. Agents said a fourth individual, Berry Craig Mossman, in his 20s and from Denver, had rented a car that the woman had left in the center parking lot, apparently for use as a getaway vehicle.

The FBI said Mossman has been in the nearby Adams County Jail since Monday after being arrested on a bad check charge. An FBI spokesman said a .357-magnum pistol was found in the car.

The three hostages were identified as a guard, Raymond Trujillo; an inmate, James Wallace and Wallace's mother, Mary Ann Wallace, of Pueblo, Colo.

Keohane said Cassidy apparently used one of the smuggled pistols to force a guard to release Rollins from a nearby cell, and the two then went to the waiting room, where they announced their bid for freedom.

Negotiations were held by telephone and through a window by the warden, Ortiz, Chaplain Timothy Oldahl and federal officials. A television reporter was called in when inmates demanded he be included.

The inmates demanded a bullet-proof shield to guard their exit and a getaway vehicle. They said the hostages would be released when they were a safe distance from the center.

Rollins said in a disjointed conversation on a prison telephone that he feared for his life from the FBI, explaining that he was arrested for bank robbery in Bowling Green, Ky., "and the FBI told me they'd kill me if they ever caught a gun in my hand again."

More than 100 law officers, some armed with rifles, surrounded the reformatory.

INMATE SURRENDERS: Alfred Smith Rollins, 19, of Kansas City, leaves the Federal Youth Center in Englewood, Colo., early Thursday after he and another inmate surrendered after holding three hostages at gunpoint for 10½ hours in an escape attempt. New 'Instant' Lottery Tickets On Sale Tuesday

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — New $1 "instant" lottery tickets go on sale Tuesday, offering up to 50 people a chance at $1 million in 12 weeks.

One in 10 tickets will win a cash prize from $2 to $10,000 without waiting, says Gus Harrison, state lottery commissioner.

Six numbers on the gold, green, red and silver tickets are hidden beneath a metallic foil covering. Lottery players can scrape away the foil with a coin edge or fingernail and see instantly if they are winners.

Winning tickets will show identical dollar amounts in three of the number boxes. The prize equals that amount.

Prizes of $2 and $5 will be paid on the spot by any lottery ticket seller. The $50 and $100 amounts will be paid at state lottery claim centers.

The $1,000 and $10,000 winning tickets must be brought personally to the Lansing lottery headquarters or regional offices in Oak Park, Kalamazoo, Saginaw, Grayling or Marquette, Harrison said Wednesday.

About 500 people should win the $10,000 "instant" prize, he added. Over five million tickets should win at one of the prize levels during the run of one game.

Harrison estimates the 50 million tickets printed by an Atlanta, Ga., game company will satisfy Michigan residents' gambling fever for 12 weeks. Then, unless tickets sell out earlier, a million dollar Grand Drawing will be held for up to 50 finalists, guaranteed to win at least $10,000.

These people will have rubbed tickets and found the word "finalist" printed in all six boxes.

In addition to the $1 million award, to be paid in 20 yearly $50,000 installments, cash prizes of $50,000 will be paid in full to two winners and $25,000 will go to four winners.

Slate Rep. Raymond Kehres, D-Monroe, predicted great success for the instant tickets.

"A bartender in my town told me this would be the biggest game you've got going," he said. "People will play poker with them, they'll have side bets on which is the top ticket."

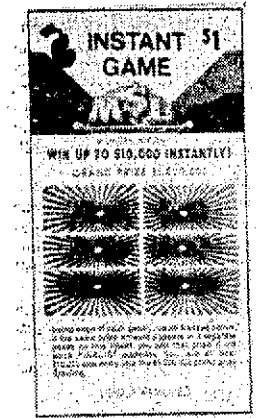

"People will go bananas. People will go hotcakes in bars. It's one of the only instant things people have."

The overall 1-10 winning odds in the new $1 game are better than in the original 50 cent game. One out of 250 of the cheaper green tickets is a $25 winner. In the instant game, one out of 12 tickets wins $2 and one out of every 44 tickets sold is worth $5.

Odds for $50 prizes are 110,000. Odds for $10,000 prizes are 1-101,000.

The game was developed by the state Lottery Bureau and Scientific Games Inc. for $700,000, Harrison said. Similar contests have been very successful in other states, he said.

If all 50 million of the $1 tickets are sold, the state treasury will win $22.5 million, or 45 per cent as required by law. Buyers would also get $22.5 million in prizes. The Lottery Bureau would keep $5 million for advertising, salaries and other expenses.

NEW TICKET: State officials have unveiled new $1 lottery ticket that tells instantly if ticket-holder is winner. The numbers are under six sun-burst rectangles in middle. You rub sun-burst off with coin, fingernail or even lucky rabbit's foot and if same prize amount appears in three boxes, you win that prize. Game debuts Oct. 7. (AP Wirephoto)

Promotes Oral Hygiene

A dental irrigator, or water toothpick, cleans out food particles trapped between teeth.

And, according to the American Dental Association, promotes oral cleanliness.

To keep the unit in good condition, remove the water reservoir from the power unit after each use, and empty the reservoir. With the reservoir removed, run the unit for several seconds to clear the hose of water. Use only sudsy water to clean the tips.

PSC Probers Give Rosenberg A Week To Get Papers

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A special House committee investigating the Public Service Commission agreed Wednesday to give the PSC's former chairman a one-week "grace period" on subpoenaed documents. The documents originally were due Wednesday.

The committee cautioned former chairman William Rosenberg, however, that no further extensions would be granted, and failure to meet the new deadline — next Wednesday, Oct. 8 — would result in legal action to force compliance. Rosenberg, in Washington D.C. after accepting an appointment to the Federal Energy Office, told committee members by phone he could not honor the subpoena by the first deadline. He said he received it in the mail late Tuesday and needed time to gather his documents from three locations.

The committee, chaired by Rep. Howard Wolpe, D-Kalamazoo, on Sept. 11 subpoenaed documents, appointment books and telephone logs from the three current PSC commissioners, Rosenberg, Rosenberg's attorney, and a PSC staffer. All except Rosenberg and his attorney submitted the materials by the 1 p.m. Wednesday deadline.

Rosenberg said in a telephone interview the agreement was "fine with me. That's exactly what I asked for."

But he called the investigation a "highly politically motivated inquiry, an attempt to make a political issue out of one of the toughest problems in Michigan."

He said the probe was "an attempt to discredit a commission in its work rather than help it in one of the toughest jobs around."

Rosenberg leveled conflict of interest charges against four members of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley's staff who are advising the committee. Rosenberg said the committee got staffers who repeatedly opposed utility rate hikes in the past.

Kelley's office has consistently opposed the PSC as being too generous with rate increases to utilities.

"The investigation's become a circular thing with people who have criticized the commission now involved in a so-called objective investigation into whether it deserves criticism," Rosenberg said.

Committee members Wolpe and Charles Varnum, R-Manistiquie, said they were irritated that Rosenberg would claim he did not know of the subpoena until Tuesday. They said copies were sent to several of his Michigan residences, including one to a PSC staffer with whom Rosenberg shared a house.

They also said he told them by phone that he would testify in person, but only if the committee sent him questions in advance.

Rosenberg said Wednesday he made the request because he thought it would be "the most efficient use of time if I had a chance to prepare."

"Unless somebody's really got something to hide, that's a strange request to make," said committee counsel Stuart Freeman of the attorney general's staff.

Rosenberg said he would comply "voluntarily and fully" with the subpoena, though he says he is not legally bound by it. A subpoena must be served in person and only in the state in which it is issued, said Rosenberg.

A subpoena issued against Rosenberg in September by Genesee County Prosecutor Robert Leonard over Rosenberg's role in a Consumers Power Co. rate increase was quashed at Rosenberg's request. Leonard has appealed that decision.

The Wolpe committee hopes to conclude hearings by next spring. It will then make recommendations to the legislature, Wolpe said.

STUDENT SUBDUED: Police subdue and handcuff student outside Danbury, Conn., High School where white students clashed with black students. At least 12 people were injured, one seriously, and 12 students were arrested in the fighting. At least 70 local and 25 state police were called in to quell disturbance. School has been closed until Monday. (AP Wirephoto)

Ten Building Permits Issued In Benton Harbor

The Benton Harbor building inspection department during the past week issued 10 permits for varied construction projects totaling an estimated $8,100.

A permit was issued to the City of Benton Harbor for rehabilitation of a single-family house at 775 Columbus avenue, for an estimated $3,000. The project is under a Rehabilitation Training program detailed in this newspaper last August 10.

Permits also were issued to Sherriff-Goslin Co. for roofing work on a single-family house, owned by Paul Brown, 992 Pearl street, $1,400; King and Smith Roofing Co., for roofing work on a single-family house, owned by Richard Carr, 1159 Union, $700; Hilda Baginske, for repairs to a two-family house she owns at 158 Lake street, $500.

James Scruggs, Sr., to repair fire damage to a single-family house he owns at 193 Lake, $500; Arthur Lee Pettis, to remodel a single-family house he owns at 865 Superior street, $500; Louis South, for construction of a stairway at a two-family house he owns at 122 Garfield, $500.

Garlinger Construction Co., to replace a rear door at Spear's Foodtown, 813 Columbus avenue, $450; Leonard Little, for roofing work on a house owned by Helen Wright, 994 Columbus, $300; and Edwin Ward, for roofing work on a house he owns at 278 Hastings avenue, $250.

EXCAVATING OLD COURTHOUSE SITE

Archaeologists Dig Into Berrien's Past

BERRIEN SPRINGS — A careful inch-by-inch exploration of the yard area behind the old Berrien county courthouse here is going on this fall under the direction of professional archaeologists.

Purpose of the exploration is to locate structures which were there long ago and other artifacts to learn more about life in Berrien county during its early years.

The project gives county residents a rare chance to watch an archaeological dig in progress almost literally in their own backyard.

The Berrien County Historical Association is sponsoring the work. Actual shovel work is being done by volunteer amateurs, who drive from as far away as Lansing to participate. Most are members of the Michigan Archaeological Society. The southwest chapter of the society under William Beverly of Watervliet made arrangements for the work. Funding is from a matching funds grant from the U.S. Department of Interior and private sources.

Historical records show that there was a wooden jail in the area behind the courthouse in 1838, before the courthouse itself was built. There was also a stable and an early electricity generating plant.

Preliminary work has shown the area abounds in the debris of human occupation (which archaeologists call artifacts) from the 1830's to recent times.

A detailed examination of these artifacts this winter will produce a lengthy and detailed interpretation of how the land and buildings were used plus insights into the life style of the people who used them.

According to the historical association, written records from the time, letters, diaries, the county histories...tended to omit everyday minor details of living in favor of events the writers thought were more interesting. Usually the seamer side of life was omitted altogether. Things tossed out and lost around an 1838 county jail can give a picture of the social misfits who resided there from time to time.

The project manager is Dr. James Fitting, chief of Commonwealth's Cultural Resources section. Until recently, Dr. Fitting was state archaeologist for Michigan. He is author of the book "Archaeology in Michigan." William Lowery, formerly with the Michigan History division, now staff historian for Commonwealth, is doing the historical research for the project. Lowery prepared the original National Registers nomination for the old courthouse and identified the two-story log house now on the courthouse grounds as the state's oldest standing two-story log house.

The two-story log cabin was built in 1830 by Francis Murdoch, Berrien county's first attorney, and is currently in the process of being restored. It stands directly behind the restored old county courthouse, having been moved to the site in early 1874.

Actual field supervision of the project is by Donald Weir, who has supervised archaeological projects in several states for Commonwealth. Artifact analysis will be done by C. Stephen Demeter, a specialist in 18th century archaeology. Both Weir and Demeter have been working at the Berrien Springs site.

The Historical Association will publish the project report when it is completed.

The exploration area is laid out in a grid of one-by-two meter rectangles. Soil is removed in 10 centimeter levels and sifted through a screen. Artifacts are placed in sacks marked to identify where they are found. At each level the excavation is photographed, sketched and notes taken. The result is that even after the work is done and the holes filled, the archaeologists will be able to study the entire site in three dimensions.

Work is going on all day Saturdays and Sundays. Qualified volunteers who would like to do shovel and screen work on the site can contact David Mohrhardt, director of the Old Courthouse Museum, Berrien Springs.

COURTHOUSE SITE: View of old courthouse site in Berrien Springs shows part of courthouse building itself at left and Murdoch log cabin. Cabin, oldest known structure in state, was moved to site from Cherry drive, Berrien Springs in early 1874. Cabin was built in 1830. Work has started to explore site for clues to county's early years.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL DIG: Archaeologists are digging in area behind old courthouse in Berrien Springs in attempt to locate structures or other artifacts from bygone era. Dig areas pictured are one by two meter rectangles from which soil is removed in 10 centimeter levels and sifted. Digs are being made near log cabin moved to site previously. (Staff photos)

Two Face Break-In Charges

BUCHANAN — Two 16-year-old Buchanan boys will be petitioned into juvenile court in connection with a break-in at a rural Niles residence earlier this week, state police at the Niles post said today.

Troopers said both boys have been released to the custody of their parents after being questioned about the Monday break-in at the Frederick Haas residence, on Frantz road, just east of Niles.

About $500 in cash, a watch and four handguns have been recovered, police said.

Buchanan police said they have also questioned one of the two boys in connection with the reported theft of between $100 and $200 from a Buchanan apartment on Sept. 13. Police said Kenneth Bonifay, 609 North Red Bud trail, reported the cash was taken from his unlocked apartment.

Ludington Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Department of the Interior granted the City of Ludington, Mich., $67,500 Wednesday to buy 8.2 acres on Pere Marquette Lake for a marina.

Class Rings Stolen From BH High School Returned

Thirteen of 20 class rings stolen from a trophy case at Benton Harbor high school Monday night have been returned to school officials, Benton Harbor police said Wednesday. Kenneth Overley, assistant high school principal, told police a student turned in the rings, valued at $25 each. A $50 reward, offered for information leading to the recovery of the rings, has been paid, Overley reported. He told police the student would remain anonymous. According to police, Overley said the student reported he had obtained the rings in Broadway park. How he got the rings was not revealed.

Weesaw Tables Legion's Request For Park Funds

NEW TROY — Weesaw township board last night tabled for further study a request by Weesaw American Legion Post 518 for funds for a recreation park.

James Novak, a spokesman for the post, said legion members have already spent about $3,500 in improving a three-acre parcel of land just west of New Troy on Wee-chik road.

The park, Novak said, is a biocentennial project and would include swings, a baseball diamond with lighting and an ice skating rink.

He said the park would serve youngsters from both Weesaw and Channing townships. The legion, he said, is asking for funds from both township governments.

In other areas, Craig Smith, the township fire chief, disclosed that an anonymous donor gave the fire department $1,000 for its "outstanding work" in helping to combat the Sept. 9 Taylor Wax Processing company fire at New Troy.

The money, Smith said, will be put towards the purchase of a new fire truck.

He told the board that 17 fire departments sent men to the fire and 12 departments sent equipment.

The board announced that at a special Sept. 17 meeting, the low bid on blanket insurance for the township's building and equipment was accepted. The low bid of $2,220 was from Gerald Nye Insurance of Three Oaks. It was one of two bids, township officials said.

The board authorized Police Chief Bill Daniel to purchase for $150 a tape recorder for use in the police car.

Building Inspector William Bartholomew reported that building permits representing $57,670 in construction were issued in September.

He said permits were issued for Alvin Krumie, New Troy, home addition, $3,500; Richard Bender, Sawyer, new home, $14,500; John Olson, New Troy, residing, $2,670; Howard Shoemaker, New Troy, erect modular home, $18,500; and Spencer Castle, to move home onto his property and to refinish interior, $18,500.

Dowagiac Police Thwart Burglary

DOWAGIAC — Dowagiac police arrested two men, one identified as a prison escapee, early this morning after interrupting what they described as an attempt to burglarize a safe inside the Dowagiac high school.

Police said one man was arrested leaving the building while the second was found inside after a search. The officers said marks around the safe indicated that an attempt had been made to force it open.

Booked at the county jail on charges of breaking and entering were John R. Noble, 24, 96th street, Sister Lakes and Leroy Barum, 23, Coloma.

Police Chief Michael Schott identified Barium as being an escapee from Ionia state prison.

According to police, the arrests came after officers on routine patrol saw a man leaving the high school building about 3 a.m.

very much," can count over 100, can add and subtract but has just started learning multiplication and cannot divide. She also said Bret "reads a little."

Mrs. Waddell said her philosophy on child-rearing and education came primarily from a series of books by Ellen G. White, an Adventist writer who was a spokesman for the Adventist church in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

"Do the same conditions exist in the public schools as existed when Mrs. White wrote?" questioned Smetanka. "I don't believe they do," said Mrs. Waddell.

"Then should the changed conditions produce a change in the application of her teachings?" the prosecutor queried.

Mrs. Waddell did not directly answer that question, but she said she believed in the principle of a mother as the only teacher as strongly as she believed in the Ten Commandments, and felt that was just as important.

She also said she believes Mrs. White's writings are on the "same plane" as the Bible, and that the Bible and Mrs. White's writings are "exactly the same thing" since both have Divine influence.

"Is the center of your belief that this child should not have been in school at age 7? Is that your only reason?" Smetanka asked.

"That and the fact the Lord has commanded me to obey Him," responded Mrs. Waddell.

The prosecutor asked if part of the decision to keep Bret out of school was because the child was, as Mrs. Waddell had previously testified, physically and emotionally immature. "Wasn't that the primary thing that affected you?"

"The primary thing was the principle in my mind," Mrs. Waddell again asserted.

Mrs. Waddell agreed that the views of other Adventists may differ from hers on the relation of the Bible and Mrs. White's writings. "Is it not a fact that the vast majority of Adventists disagree in practice with your theory of child rearing?" Smetanka charged.

"There are many who do not practice this," came the response. "And is there anything in the Fundamental Beliefs of the Seventh Day Adventist church that says mothers should be teachers of their children up to age 8 or 10?"

"No," replied Mrs. Waddell.

"Is there a verse in the Bible that says a child shouldn't be in school until he's 8 or 10?" Smetanka asked.

"No there is not," Mrs. Waddell said, but added the directive comes from Mrs. White's writings, which she believes is the same as the Bible.

Patty May Face Added Charges

Let's get out of here."

In the April 21 Crocker robbery, authorities say three men and one woman entered the bank through the back door while a fourth male waited outside in front of the bank.

"The female indicated they had so much time to get out. She said, 'Two minutes, one minute, and time's up' — words to that effect," Reese said.

It has been reported that a $20 bill taken in that robbery turned up at one of the apartments where Miss Hearst and the Harrises were arrested Sept. 18. But authorities have yet to confirm that.

Also found at the Hearst apartment was a green scarf.

Sues Three For Injuries To His Son

PAW PAW — A Lawton man has filed a lawsuit in Van Buren county circuit court seeking unspecified damages for injuries his son received in a 1974 auto accident.

Named as defendants in the suit are Robert C. Johnson, Lawton; Stimac's party store, Paw Paw, and the Van Buren county road commission.

In the suit, Nathan L. Craighead says that his son, Nathan II, then 17, was a passenger in a car driven by Johnson which crashed into an embankment on CR-354 near 20th street on Aug. 22, 1974.

According to the suit, Johnson negligently ran a stop sign at the T-intersection. Stimac's, the suit says, was negligent in selling liquor to Johnson because he was at that time a minor of 17. The suit also charges the road commission failed to clear brush away which concealed a stop sign from Johnson's view in time to stop.

Witnesses said one of the robbers of the Crocker bank was a similar scarf.

The Guild Savings office is a brick-faced storefront nestled between a dry cleaners and liquor store in a small shopping center in the affluent suburbs about 10 miles northeast of downtown Sacramento.

The Crocker bank is in a similar suburban shopping center, between an apartment building and a pizza parlor.

There were other clues, too, that have pointed to an SLA PRESENCE IN THE AREA.

An unsent New World Liberation Front message claiming responsibility for the Crocker bank robbery reportedly was found in the Harrises' apartment. It was not released to news media.

On May 1, a bomb exploded behind a state parole office near downtown Sacramento. The New World Liberation Front, since linked to the SLA, claimed responsibility for the explosion.

The bombing occurred three blocks from the garage where detectives say a Crocker bank getaway car was stored before the robbery-murder.

Eight blocks away, FBI agents checked an address used by a young man who purchased a car later linked to the SLA fugitives. The car, a 1967 Ford Galaxy, reportedly was purchased with $20 bills taken in the Crocker robbery.

Those three addresses — the garage, the parole office and the phony address used in the car purchase — are all in an area of tree-lined streets and older homes inhabited mostly by students, senior citizens and single transients.

The neighborhood, a decaying section of once-fine homes, is just two miles east of the courtroom where two Symbionese Liberation Army members, Russell Little and Joseph Renfro, went on trial March 31. They were convicted of the murder of Oakland schools chief Marcus Foster, three months before the SLA kidnapping of Miss Hearst.

MUGGING ATTEMPT: These photos of attempted mugging in Baltimore were taken Wednesday by Baltimore Sun photographer Irving M. Phillips on his way to another assignment. First two photos show two black youths attacking 52-year-old Ernest Mitchell, who had just cashed welfare check. Youths took 6-inch knife away from Mitchell, but he regained possession of it (3) and is shown chasing one of his assailants. Neither youth had been captured by police late Wednesday. Mitchell, who suffers from heart condition, said only one older man from surrounding crowd tried to offer assistance and that he was knocked aside. (AP Wirephotos)

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. Friday.

Man Held On Gaming Charges

Benton Harbor police arrested a Benton township man Wednesday on a charge of conspiracy to violate state gambling laws. Police said gambling paraphernalia and some cash were confiscated.

Booked at the Berrien county jail was J.C. Ray, 44, of 1453 Highland avenue. Police said the arrest came as a result of an investigation that is continuing.

BHHS Closes School Early After Fire

Extensive smoke created by a fire in a clothes dryer at Benton Harbor high school caused school officials to dismiss all classes an hour early Wednesday.

Benton Harbor firemen extinguished the fire which was caused by an apparent malfunction in the temperature controls of the large dryer in the physical education section of the building. Overheating caused towels in the dryer to catch fire. No one was injured. Amount of damage was undetermined.

Classes were dismissed shortly after the 1:30 p.m. fire, a little more than an hour before regular sixth-hour dismissal at 2:45 p.m.

Hearing Asked In Horse Theft

Victor M. Roquette, 48, Coloma, demanded a preliminary hearing when arraigned yesterday in Berrien Fifth District court on two charges of larceny of livestock.

Roquette is accused of taking two horses Sept. 16 from the Coloma township farm of his former wife, Cindy.

One of the horses belonged to Mrs. Roquette and the other to Wayne King of rural Watervliet, according to Coloma township police.

Township Police Chief Richard Klimaszewski said the horses were believed to have been sold through a St. John's auction.

The animal belonging to Mrs. Roquette was recovered but King's horse was not, police said.

Roquette posted a $1,000 bond and was released pending the preliminary hearing.

petition drive in the near future and that teachers presently are determining how many signatures will be needed to force recall election.

Mrs. Hunt noted that before casting a "pretty strong" vote in favor of the recall effort teachers had received a letter, reprimand and notice of further disciplinary action resulting from their one-day protest strike Sept. 25.

"In addition to docking pay for one day, we were told that we no longer would have payroll deductions for our union dues and that the board was pulling back the agency shop provision from negotiations," she said.

"That's just a punitive type thing. It makes you wonder what's coming tomorrow."

She said both letters were signed by John Fensfeld, group director for personnel and labor relations.

Mrs. Hunt also said teachers challenged many of the statements made by school board President E.E. (Bill) Bentley in a telegram to the state superintendent of schools requesting a fact-finder.

"He said we've negotiated over 200 hours, but we haven't," she said. "It's only about 100 hours, and we have notes to prove it. It SEEMS like 200 hours, but it hasn't been."

PAW PAW LAKE HEARING: About 150 people crowded into Coloma township hall last night for public hearing on proposal to initiate one-year weed control program on Paw Paw lake. Board will now poll all 515 lakefront property owners and make a decision based on desires of the majority. (Cliff Stevens photo)

Vote Slated On Lake Weed Control

Opponents Want County To Share Cost

COLOMA — Paw Paw lake property owners will vote on whether a one-year weed control program should be undertaken at the lake next year.

The Paw Paw Lake Improvement board agreed last night to stage the advisory election after a public hearing where opposition to the project was filed by many of the 150 people present.

Robert Jackson, chairman of the board, indicated the board's decision on whether to launch the program will follow the results of the balloting among the 515 property owners in both Watervliet and Coloma townships.

"It is our intent to do as the majority of the lakefront homeowners desire," he said.

During the meeting a petition was presented to the board signed by 202 property owners along both sides of the lake who were opposed to any tax assessment placed on them unless the assessment were shared equally with county taxpayers.

The board had proposed that funding for the weed-control program be obtained by assessing lakefront property owners 62½ cents per lineal foot of shoreline property.

The ballots will be mailed before Nov. 1, he said.

Several residents said they were opposed to the way the lake was treated this past year by a private firm.

They also said the lake was used for fishing, boating and swimming by residents from all over the county and therefore the assessment for improvements should be spread over the county.

The petition claimed that an assessment of only shoreline property owners would be unconstitutional, a deprivation of their rights and denial of due process of law.

The petitions were circulated by Michael J. McArdle, route 1, box 975, Windermere Landing, Watervliet, who said the signatures were obtained within a 10-day period.

John Matthews, secretary of the improvement board, noted that the petition wording indicated that those who signed it were against lake-level control as well as weed control.

According to Matthews, the citizens petitioned the county to set a legal lake level, and a lake level control must now be installed by the county.

"An assessment district has not been set," said Matthews. "However, initial opinion is that lake residents must bear the major cost of the project. Now we are petitioned by the residents indicating they do not want this unless all Berrien county pays for it."

"The chances for that happening are nil. In essence, the petitioners are throwing out both weed control and lake flood level control or future improvements of any kind."

Ten persons told the board they were in favor of the weed control measure.

After the discussion, the decision was made by the board to send one ballot to each property owner regardless of how many parcels of lakefront property he may own.

McArdle told the board he would hold his petition until he could read the wording on the ballot.

If he disliked it, he said he would continue his drive to obtain signatures from a majority of the 515 lakefront property owners.

Last night's hearing was originally intended to review the special assessment roll and to confirm it for tax collection. The hearing was adjourned until the results of the balloting are known.

Costs for a one-year weed control program in 1976 were pegged at $40,631. A $5,000 grant from the county parks and recreation board would pay part of the cost. The balance $35,631 would be raised by special assessment.

The weed control proposal would include two complete treatments of the lake with a guaranteed kill, treatment of all shorelands to a depth of 10 feet, and treatment of all surface growth in the lake.

Monitoring and verification would be made by the Andrews university water quality laboratory with a survey taken at least 20 times annually.

Ferris Declines Township Position

JOHN FERRIS
Refuses post

COLOMA — John Ferris, Coloma township trustee since 1958, said yesterday he would not accept the appointment as Coloma Township supervisor if the position was offered to him by the township board.

Former Township Supervisor A. G. (Greg) Blevins, who resigned from the position last week, recommended the board appoint Ferris to fill his unexpired term until November, 1976.

Blevins stepped down from the post after being unable to find work in the local area.

Ferris, 67, said last night he felt he was "too old" for the job and didn't have the time to devote to the position. He retired in June, 1970, from Whirlpool corporation.

It is expected that the township board will consider appointing another supervisor at its Oct. 6 meeting.

BH Mayor Meets With President

Benton Harbor Mayor Charles Joseph was one of 30 Midwest mayors to meet with President Ford at a conference yesterday in Shokie, Ill.

Joseph said today that the mayors met with Ford for about an hour and a half and discussed problems of small cities. The mayors from Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin held a "good exchange" on federal revenue sharing extensions, narcotics, crime and housing problems, according to Joseph. He noted that security precautions were particularly stringent.

Grand Rapids Mayor Lynn Parks was the only other Michigan mayor at the conference.

Ohio Marks 20th Year Of Turnpike

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shucknessy took a look Wednesday at 20 years of turnpike operation — and liked what he found.

The day marked the 20th anniversary of the opening of the toll road that stretches across Ohio from Indiana to Pennsylvania.

He said that in 20 years, about 334 million vehicles have traveled about 25 billion miles on the turnpike, producing about $620 million in revenue.

Shucknessy also said that of the original 40-year bonds totaling $326 million to finance the turnpike's construction, only about $98 million remains outstanding. He said all bonds will be retired and the road toll-free and toll-free by 1981, 10 years in advance of the required payoff date.

He estimated September revenue at $3.75 million, about $250,000 below that of September 1974. He blamed adverse weather this year.

Faulty Gauge Forces Plane To Crashland

OWASSO, Mich. (AP) — An Owosso man escaped injury Wednesday after his single-engine plane was forced to make an emergency landing on a busy road near his Owosso home.

Shiawassee County deputies said James McCracken was piloting the plane when low compression readings forced the emergency landing. Deputies said the man had just taken off from a nearby airstrip.

Hearings Asked By 4 In Berrien

A Benton Harbor man charged with purse-snatching was one of four people to demand examinations on felony charges Wednesday in Berrien Fifth District court. Four people were bound over to Circuit court, 15 were sentenced and charges against two others were dismissed.

Demanding examinations were:

Wardell McIntosh, 19, of 1048 Pearl street, Benton Harbor, charged with unarmed robbery of a purse from Mary Miller Sept. 30 in Benton Harbor. He was jailed in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Chuck Lard, 47, of Elkhart, Ind., charged with larceny over $100 involving the alleged theft of a tow sling July 15 in Benton township. He was released on $2,000 personal recognizance bond.

Charlotte Kent, 32, of 5400 Red Arrow highway, Stevensville, on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property valued over $100 — jewelry, a calculator and a recorder — Sept. 30 in Stevensville. Bond of $3,500 was not met.

Eugene Tyus, 20, of 267 Butternut, Benton Harbor, on a charge of breaking and entering a Benton township dwelling Sept. 26. He was jailed in lieu of $3,500 bond.

Bound over to Circuit court were:

Carl Cobb, Jr., 23, of 2153 Ruth avenue, and David H. Murphy, 26, of 1561 Reeder street, both of Benton township, charged with breaking into South End Beverages, Benton township, Sept. 28. Cobb remained free and Murphy in jail on $6,000 bonds. They waived examinations.

William C. Bates, 55, of Chicago, charged with carrying a concealed pistol in an auto Sept. 23 in Coloma township. He was released on $2,500 personal recognizance bond.

William O. Bartels, 18, of 5290 Cleveland avenue, Stevensville, charged with delivery of cocaine Aug. 8 in St. Joseph. Bond of $2,500 was put up.

Charges of carrying concealed pistols filed against two Benton Harbor men were dismissed.

Fred were Lewis Brown, 28, of 315 Brunson, and John W. Neal, 36, of 364 Summit.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Receiving and concealing stolen property valued under $100 — Tommy Lee Woods, 20, of 664 Colfax, Benton Harbor, 30 days in jail; Gary Lee White, 28, of 5840 St. Joseph avenue, Stevensville, fine and costs of $200; Norvell "Dutch" Smith, 38, of 747 Buena Vista road, Benton Harbor, $175; Larry Clabin (also known as Clayborn), 23, of 855 Edgumbe avenue, Benton Harbor, $101.

Use of marijuana — Frank D. Denton, 17, of Benton Harbor, $100 and six months probation; Norman V. Kent, 17, of 4195 Washington avenue, St. Joseph, $50 and, for driving while license suspended, three days in jail and $61.

Driving while intoxicated — Jack L. Harroison, 48, of Nocatee, Fla., $150 or 30 days in jail; Karl P. Milnikel, 25, of 4751 Michigan avenue, Stevensville, $101.

Impaired driving — William O. Carroll, 48, of Coloma, $151 and six months probation; Jay H. Hentschel, 20, of 335 Crescent, Watervliet, $101 or 10 days in jail.

Others sentenced were:

Laurie C. Ishmael, 18, of 180 Niles, Berrien Springs, $121 for petty larceny of gloves from Benton township Goldblatts April 17.

Leitch Miller (also known as Lester Mills), 31, of 621 Territorial, Benton Harbor, 60 days in jail for simple assault against Albert Mosby June 14 in Benton Harbor.

Kenneth S. Aldridge, 51, no address listed, 15 days in jail for both assault and battery against Donald Rentrach and malicious destruction to property valued under $100 Sept. 30 in Benton Harbor.

Sylvester Edwards, Jr., 27, of 770 Thresher, Benton Harbor, three days in jail and $90 for driving while license suspended Sept. 26 in Benton township.

Hirohito Hails U.S.-Japanese Friendship

By GEORGE GEDDA
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Japan's Emperor Hirohito formally opened a two-week state visit today by hailing the complete turnaround in Japanese-American relations since the "tragic interlude" of World War II.

The emperor was accorded full military honors at a White House ceremony that signified a new level of harmony between the two Pacific allies.

"Our people withstood the challenges of one tragic interlude, when the Pacific Ocean, symbol of tranquility, was instead a rough and stormy sea, and have built today unchanging ties of friendship and goodwill," the emperor said in prepared remarks.

"I feel immeasurably gratified by this happy development, and look forward with great anticipation to the future of our relationship."

With the emperor was his wife, Empress Nagako. After two days of meetings with President Ford, they will travel to five other major American cities and several smaller ones.

The emperor's U.S. visit, which began with a two-day rest in Williamsburg, Va., puts the final seal on the restoration of Japanese-American friendship after World War II enmity.

As the Japanese see it, no higher tribute could be paid to the United States than an imperial visit.

Hirohito, the world's longest-reigning monarch, has seen Japanese-American relations come full circle from a bitter wartime rivalry 30 years ago, to a seven-year American occupation of Japan and finally to the present era of peace and friendship.

In the emperor's name, 1.5 million Japanese went to their deaths in World War II. At the time the Japanese Imperial Army surrendered, he accepted full responsibility for Japan's war policies even though historians say he had little involvement with the conduct of the war.

As in Williamsburg, the security measures for the imperial couple will be unusually strict.

Japanese officials have been jolted by apparent attempts on President Ford's life and have refrained from disclosing the times of the couple's travels.

The trip has its origins in a November 1974 visit to Tokyo by Ford, the first incumbent president ever to undertake such a journey.

In accepting Ford's invitation for a reciprocal visit, the emperor fulfills a 50-year wish to see the United States. He is the first Japanese monarch to set foot on the American mainland. The emperor is the 124th in an imperial line dating back almost 14 centuries.

Political discussion was not on the White House agenda, in keeping with the completely ceremonial nature of the emperor's reign.

After meeting with Ford, the emperor plans an afternoon visit to the Natural History Museum. The empress will visit an art gallery. A state dinner at the White House also is planned.

Charlie Brown Is 25

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — Charlie Brown's short pants, polo shirt and painfully shy demeanor belie the fact that one of America's most beloved comic strip characters is 25 years old today. "Good grief!" might be the perennial loser's only comment. His creator, Charles M. Schulz, admits, "The poor kid has been subjected to a lot." Good ole Charlie Brown and his pint-sized pals — including his philosophical dog Snoopy — first appeared in a comic strip drawn Oct. 2, 1950, by Schulz.

Candidates Get Benefit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic presidential campaigners are gaining valuable political fringe benefits along with their new Secret Service protection although the agency says its men won't "participate in the politics of the candidates." Campaign aides say the Secret Service can't avoid helping a candidate when it sets out to guard him. Agents are deploying to guard four candidates now or in the near future, with more to be covered later.

Human Error Is Cited In Release Of Mrs. Moore

By JAMES GERSTENZANG
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate panel investigating the Secret Service says the agency's decision that Sara Jane Moore was not a threat to President Ford resulted from an error of human judgment.

But the Secret Service agents responsible for the decision, Gary Yauger and Martin Haskell, say they would make the same decision again.

Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., told the agents they did "a good, thorough job," in their handling of Ford's visit to San Francisco last week. But, closing two days of hearings on the agency's performance, he said Wednesday, "What did happen proved to be erroneous human judgment."

The two agents and the San Francisco police officer who coordinated security when Ford visited the city Sept. 22 insisted the agents made the right decision in not placing Mrs. Moore in custody or under surveillance after interviewing her the night of Sept. 21.

On the next afternoon, she fired a pistol shot as Ford walked out of the St. Francis Hotel. She was charged with attempting to assassinate the President.

Yauger revealed as the hearing ended that by coincidence he was within 15 feet of Mrs. Moore when she fired the shot, but he said he did not see her until the gun went off.

If Yauger and Haskell had decided that Mrs. Moore should be placed under surveillance or that they had grounds to arrest her, she presumably would not have been in the crowd outside the hotel.

But Yauger told the Senate subcommittee on Treasury, Postal Service and general government appropriations, "I was convinced she was not of protective interest to the President."

Lt. James A. Ryan of the San Francisco Police Department agreed, telling the panel, "I would have probably, no, erase that, absolutely made the same judgment."

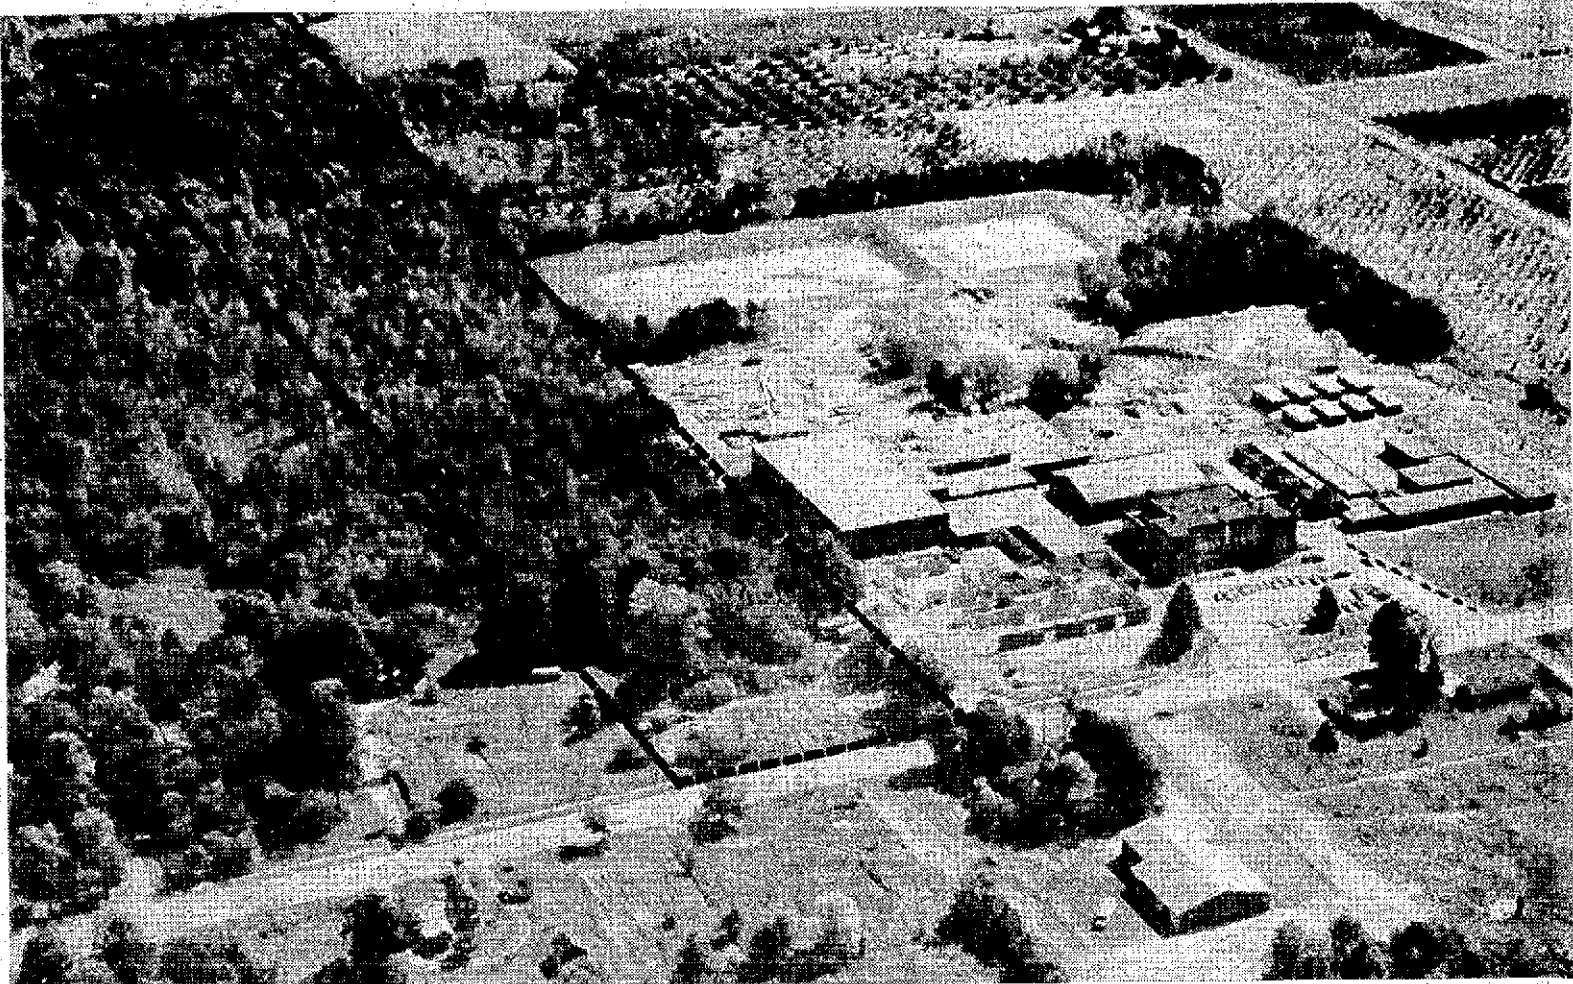

Yauger said several factors went into his decision, including a talk he had with San Francisco Police Inspector Jack O'Shea that has become a point of contention between O'Shea and the Secret Service.

Yauger spoke with O'Shea at about 11 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 21, in the midst of the Secret Service interview with Mrs. Moore to determine whether she was a threat to Ford's safety.

O'Shea told the panel Wednesday that Yauger asked him, "Is there anything else?" and the policeman said he replied, "No."

But Yauger testified later Wednesday that in the conversation with O'Shea "I said something to the effect of, 'Do we need anything else, do we have a problem?' and he replied, 'No.'"

"I don't know what he thought I meant by saying, 'Do we have a problem?'"

Milliken Asks Funds To Expand Prisons

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken on Wednesday urged the state legislature to approve funds for additional corrections facilities when lawmakers return to Lansing in 11 days.

Milliken said in a statement that passage of a state capital outlay bonding issue "is one of my highest priorities" when the legislature returns Oct. 13.

New prison construction at Ionia, Jackson and Ypsilanti is essential if Michigan is to meet its estimated 12,000 prisoner population by July 1, 1977. Milliken was told by Correction Director Perry Johnson.

Without it, Johnson told the governor, the state corrections system by 1977 could be overcrowded by at least 700 inmates.

"We have an extraordinary problem here," Milliken said, "one that we must deal with on a crash basis — but also in an intelligent and humane manner."

Crime Strike Forces Grow; Need More Funds, Talent

WASHINGTON (AP) — More and more states are forming strike forces to combat thriving crime syndicates, but many state officials say they're hampered by a shortage of money and talent.

About 400 federal, state and local law enforcement officials are sharing their experiences at a National Conference on Organized Crime sponsored by the Justice Department today through Saturday.

A major part of the discussion centers on strike forces, the special teams of investigators and prosecutors used to build cases against syndicate gambling, drug trafficking, loansharking and fraud schemes.

MADRID, Spain (AP) — The violence from the extreme left and the extreme right which Spain has seen this week bodes ill for the liberal political reforms that are expected when Generalissimo Francisco Franco dies or retires.

Man Who Refused Kidney Machine Treatment Dies

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — Chuck McCracken, who let himself be slowly poisoned by his own body wastes rather than face the agony of kidney machine treatments, is dead.

McCracken, 37, died of kidney failure Wednesday evening with his family at his hospital bedside, a spokesman at Loma Linda University Medical Center said.

His wife, Barbara, said he was conscious and talking to his family until about 10 minutes before his death. He entered the hospital Tuesday.

McCracken surprised doctors by living more than two months after he stopped taking twice-weekly dialysis treatments to remove the poisons from his body. He was expected to die within two or three weeks.

When he stopped the treatment July 22, McCracken said he would rather face certain death than suffer the "sheer agony" of the kidney machine. He was also blind, diabetic,

Beans Down, Not Out

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — This year's wet weather has hurt but not destroyed the Michigan navy bean crop, according to a Michigan State University agricultural marketing specialist. "If many bean growers market their beans in an orderly program based on past demand, prices should remain significantly higher than 1974," said Quentin Ostrander. "But we don't expect prices to reach 1973's peak." This year's price to growers, as of Sept. 28, was $34 per hundredweight, Ostrander said. Last year it averaged $17 and the year before it reached $57. The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates the dry edible bean production in Michigan this year as just over 5.2 million hundredweight, nearly two million hundredweight less than in 1974. "Some growers may not sell a bean," said Warner Meylan, a large bean grower in Bay County. "But it looks as if the situation overall won't be as bad as we anticipated."

Puerto Rico now have special teams of investigators and prosecutors for organized crime, said the association's June report distributed to conference participants.

The states are Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Rhode Island, Texas, Utah and Wisconsin.

Five of them have been established in the past three years.

Virtually all have been launched with federal funds from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration which presently is spending more than $10 million in partial support of 19 state projects against organized crime.

The association report said many state officials worry about where they'll get money to continue the operation once federal grants end.

"Several states report negatively on the chances of state support," and "one project director reports that his state legislature is afraid of the organized crime unit and may not fund it," the report said.

In addition to budget, the state strike force officials have found that "one of the most difficult problems" is recruiting talented and trustworthy investigators and prosecutors with experience in outwitting mobsters.

Recruiting involves two problems, the association report said: "An excess of applicants, because of the interesting nature of the work, and a shortage of qualified applicants, because of the scarcity of experienced personnel."

According to the report, the state strike forces have experimented with a variety of investigative tactics. But like their federal counterparts, most rely heavily on paid informers.

The association said almost all state strike forces have a fund to pay informers, purchase contraband for use as evidence, rent rooms for surveillance, and meet other expenses "such as to buy drinks for potential informants, to place bets with gamblers, etc."

Almost half the states have laws similar to the federal statute permitting investigators to use electronic surveillance after obtaining a court warrant.

Goal Of 28 M.P.G. 1985 Will Mean Smaller Cars

By OWEN ULLMANN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Four out of five car buyers would be forced to purchase subcompacts or minicars in 1985 if stringent federal fuel economy legislation is enacted, General Motors Corp. said Wednesday.

In addition, the largest car Detroit could sell in 10 years would be smaller than today's compacts, according to GM President Elliott M. Estes.

A black market in large family cars also might develop by 1985, Estes added in a luncheon speech here.

"With so few 'big' cars being built, people would likely start queuing up for them — just as they did when cars were in such short supply after World War II," he said.

"Likewise, the price of good used cars would skyrocket and a black market in new and used larger models might even develop."

Estes said that scenario stems from a GM study assessing the impact of congressional legislation requiring the industry to build cars averaging 28 miles per gallon of gasoline by 1985.

"If this proposal becomes law, the largest car the industry will be selling will probably be smaller, lighter and less powerful than today's compact Chevy Nova," he said.

"And only a small per cent of all models being produced will be that size. Perhaps as much as 85 per cent of our production will have to be made up of cars the size of the Chevette and Vega."

This model-year, subcompacts and minicars account for about 25 per cent of new car sales, including imports.

Both houses of Congress have passed separate bills containing the mandatory 28 m.p.g. provision. The bills now head for debate in joint conference committees.

The White House has not taken an official position on the mileage provisions, but officials in the Federal Energy Administration have labeled such a fuel economy goal by 1985 as "unrealistic."

Even if the provisions become law, the industry might be granted an extension beyond 1985. In the area of exhaust emissions, the companies lobbied successfully for delays in the implementation of standards now on the books.

Estes said a mandatory fuel economy law could discourage three million customers from buying cars in 1985 alone, lead to the layoff of thousands of workers, and have "a severe adverse impact" on the nation's economy.

Without such a law, Estes predicted the industry could sell 13 million cars in 1985, compared with 8.1 million this year and a record 11.4 million in 1973.

In recent government tests, 1976-model cars averaged 17.6 m.p.g., a 13 per cent improvement over 1975 models and a 27 per cent gain over 1974 cars.

The industry has made commitments to the White House to improve the over-all fuel economy of its cars by 40 per cent between 1974 and 1980.

Estes said the industry could make further fuel economy improvements over the next decade without federal legislation.

Benedict Arnold Was The Lucky One

By SAMUEL G. BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
TAPPAN, N.Y. (AP) — It is called Andre Hill.

There, not far from the tavern where he was imprisoned as a British spy, Maj. John Andre was hanged 195 years ago — on Oct. 2, 1780 — for plotting with

EDITOR'S NOTE — Benedict Arnold escaped and lived, despite his perfidy. But Maj. John Andre, his British accomplice, was caught and hanged, and it was 41 years before his remains finally were returned to England for burial in Westminster Abbey.

Benedict Arnold for the fall of West Point.

Andre was buried where he died. A plain monument marks the spot, but his remains are in Westminster Abbey, England. They were disinterred in 1821 and removed by the British consul in New York. He acted legally but secretly under cover of night when he heard that "hot spirits" were determined to throw the coffin into the Hudson River.

Only 10 days before his execution, Andre, chief intelligence officer for Sir Henry Clinton and adjutant general in the British army despite his youth (he was 29 or 30), had met with Arnold near Haverstraw, N.Y. Unable to return to the British warship, Vulture, which had been forced down the river by American fire, Andre spent the day in a farmhouse.

The next day, Sept. 23, Andre, disguised as a civilian but with a pass from Arnold made out in the name of John Anderson, was captured by three rebel scouts near Tarrytown as he tried to reach the British lines. They found in his boots details about the defenses of West Point, loss of which might have damaged irreparably the American cause. Arnold got word in time to escape by barge to the Vulture.

Had he been captured or exchanged, Arnold, who tried to sell out his command for 20,000 pounds sterling and a commission of brigadier general in the British army, would have been executed. Negotiations to exchange Andre for Arnold were undertaken but the British commander refused. British policy was against returning defectors.

Andre was taken across the Hudson to Major's Tavern at Tappan, close to George Washington's headquarters. There he was tried on Sept. 22 before a military board of general officers. The board found that he "ought to be considered a spy from the enemy; and that, agreeable to the law and usage of nations, it is their opinion he ought to suffer death."

Washington ordered the execution for 5 p.m. Oct. 1. Andre had appealed that he not be considered a spy, saying he had come ashore wearing his uniform and under sanction of a passport from Arnold. Clinton, the British commander, also appealed to Washington, who delayed the execution until noon Oct. 2, and then ordered it carried out.

Andre, dressed in a fresh uniform, was assisted in mounting the wagon beneath the hangrope. He adjusted it and, according to a witness, said, "I pray you bear me witness that I met my fate like a brave man."

Maj. Benjamin Tallmadge, Washington's chief of intelligence, who had brought Andre across the river to his prison, wrote many years later: "I walked with him to the place of execution and parted with him under the gallows, entirely overwhelmed with grief that so gallant an officer, and so accomplished a gentleman, should come to so ignominious an end."

As for Arnold, he fought for the British. After Yorktown, he sailed with Cornwallis for England, where he died June 14, 1801, at the age of 60.

His attempt to surrender West Point branded him forever a traitor. Washington called his actions "villainous perfidy." Historian Carl Van Doren called him "the fagot of traitors."

Arnold once told Talleyrand, the French diplomat:

"I am an American. I was born there and have spent most of my life there, yet I am probably the only living American who can say, 'I have not one friend in America. No, not one.' I am Benedict Arnold."

BALLOT BATTLE: A ballot battle between his United Farm Workers and Teamsters to represent California farm workers has been tainted by intimidation of workers, Cesar Chavez charges. State Agriculture-Labor Relations Board is hearing complaints.

NONSURGICAL PROCEDURE Gallstone Removal Easier

By C.G. McDANIEL
AP Science Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — A new nonsurgical procedure is proving to be an effective means of removing certain gallstones that form outside the gallbladder, a Wisconsin medical professor says.

Dr. Joseph E. Geenen, a gastroenterologist at the Medical College of Wisconsin, said in an interview that the technique was developed in 1973 and has been used in Japan and Germany in about 300 patients. Geenen studied how to do it at Barnabek General Hospital in Hamburg during a recent visit.

About one-fifth of all Americans are estimated to have gallstones, compact formations which result when there is too much cholesterol in the body to be neutralized by the bile that is produced in the liver and stored in the gallbladder. Most of these stones develop in the gallbladder, but 15 to 20 per cent occur in the common bile duct where it enters the duodenum, the first part of the small intestine.

The instruments used in the new technique can free stones caught in this bile duct, but they cannot be used to remove stones in the gallbladder because they cannot reach that organ.

Geenen said stones in the common bile duct are more dangerous than those in the gallbladder because they create an obstruction which can result in jaundice and infection and, if not removed, even death. Stones at this site also are difficult to identify and remove at the time of gallbladder surgery.

The new procedure involves the use of an endoscope, a flexible tube about 50 inches long and just under a half-inch in diameter, which the patient swallows.

This tube illuminates the gastrointestinal tract so physicians can look at the interior through an attached lens. An electrode wire passed through a channel in the tube serves as a cutting instrument that enlarges the small opening between the bile duct and the duodenum. The stones can then drop through into the duodenum and eventually be eliminated.

For a tightly impacted stone, a tiny furled wire basket is passed into the duct, where it is opened to envelop the stone and carry it out, much the way kidney stones are removed.

The patient is sedated but not anesthetized. This reduces the risk, especially for elderly or extremely ill patients who cannot tolerate surgery well.

The technique also has been introduced in New Orleans and New York, but is not yet widely available, Geenen said.

Returning Refugees

Have No Guarantee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although 1,541 Vietnamese refugees will be allowed to sail to their homeland from Guam, there is no guarantee they will be admitted by the new Communist government, a U.S. official says.

Julia V. Taft, director of the interagency task force on Indochinese refugees, said Tuesday that the refugees, many of whom had fled "in panic" or under duress, will be allowed to leave Guam hopefully to be reunited with their families in South Vietnam.

Millionaire Admits Nixon Fund Deceit

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Armand Hammer, a millionaire international entrepreneur and patron of the arts for more than a half-century, may go to jail for attempting to hide a $54,000 contribution to the 1972 re-election campaign of former President Richard M. Nixon.

Hammer pleaded guilty Wednesday to three misdemeanor counts under a federal law that bars making political contributions in another's name.

The man who actually delivered the cash to the Nixon campaign, former Mphntana

Gov. Tim M. Babcock, was sentenced last January to four months in jail and fined $1,000.

Hammer, 77-year-old chairman and chief executive of Occidental Petroleum Corp., could receive up to three years in prison and $3,000 in fines.

In a letter to Babcock's lawyer, Special Watergate Prosecutor Henry S. Ruth Jr. said Hammer's health should be considered in sentencing.

Ruth urged Chief U.S. District Judge William B. Jones Jr. to consider "the medical opinions of those physicians who have treated and/or examined Dr. Hammer." But a spokesman for Occidental's Los Angeles headquarters said, "Dr. Hammer is in fine health."

Hammer pleaded guilty to concealing himself as the source of the $54,000 contribution and acknowledged taking part in an elaborate cover-up of the transaction.

After the Senate Watergate Committee opened an investigation into the contributions, a "fictitious loan story," complete with sham notes, was created to make it appear that most of the cash was a loan from an Occidental consultant in London to Babcock, then a vice president in Occidental's Washington office, court papers showed.

Court papers also showed that Hammer lied on a questionnaire submitted to the Senate committee.

Crim Will Praise Buckeyes

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Not only did he get criticized for using the Michigan State-Ohio State football game as a fundraiser, but now House Speaker Bobby Crim has to travel to Ohio to praise the Buckeye team. It seems Crim had a bet with Ohio House Speaker Vernon Riffe before the big game. The loser would appear at the other's state capital to acknowledge his own team's inferiority. "One of my big-mouth staff people was responsible for that," Crim said. "I have to take a tribute down there and present it to Woodie Hayes and extol the virtues of the Ohio State team." Because of publicity over his fundraising effort, Crim already would rather forget the game — which Michigan State lost, 21-0. Last spring, Crim bought up 310 tickets to the contest and was selling each for $100 to raise political money. The fee included a brunch, drinks, a ride to the game and a seat in the end zone. From a football viewpoint, the game wasn't worth it.

Tension Eases In Holdout

LONDON (AP) — Three gunmen trapped in the basement storeroom of a London restaurant for four days and the six Italians they are holding hostage are getting friendly, Scotland Yard said today. "There appears to be very much less tension between them now," London's police commissioner, Sir Robert Mark, told newsmen outside the Spaghetti House. "Events are following the classic tradition of a criminal kidnapping. The captors and their victims have now been together sufficiently long enough for them to have established a degree of rapport."

Police Charge 2 Youths With Purse Snatching

Benton Harbor police apprehended two juvenile boys after a car and foot chase of several blocks Wednesday and charged them with snatching the purse of an elderly Benton Harbor woman. The purse and all its contents were recovered.

Mrs. Lillian Bishop, 72, of 150 Fifth street, told police her purse was taken about 8:30 p.m. as she was opening the door to her apartment. She said four boys came down the hallway, grabbed the purse and ran.

Patrolmen Kenneth Baris and Phil Harris saw four boys running on Territorial road near Fifth street and gave chase in their squad car. They followed two boys to East Main and Pipestone streets where one youth was taken into custody. The second was apprehended on Sixth street just south of Main, police said. Two of the youths escaped running down an alley off Territorial soon after police spotted the four, police indicated.

The 15- and 16-year-old boys were turned over to the custody of their parents pending petitioning to juvenile court on charges of strong armed robbery.

Thefts reported to Benton Harbor police Wednesday were: —A portable color television, valued at $350, from the home of Kenneth Johnson, 747 Columbus avenue.

—A record player and radio, valued at $250, from the apartment of Betty Gordon, 451 Maple street.

—Change in the amount of $45 and a tape player and radio, valued at $100, from the residence of Cora Williams, 275 High street.

—A combination record and tape player, valued at $200, from the apartment of Myron Williams, 552 Broadway.

—A citizen's band radio, valued at about $110, from the car of Glenn Wiegel, 5900 Lake drive, Coloma, parked in a lot in the 700 block of Riverview drive.

—A 1968 Ford Mustang owned by Alberta Rand, 1012 Jennings avenue, from the driveway of her home.

Thefts reported to Berrien sheriff's deputies Wednesday were:

—Power and masonry tools, valued at $400, from the Berrien Center Bible church, M-140, Eau Claire.

—A mini-trail bike with five-horsepower motor, from the garage at the home of Evelyn O'Connor, 8625 Stevensville-Baroda road, Baroda.

Ken Alexander, 4124 Hollywood road, Royaltown township, told state police of the Benton Harbor post two racing-style tires, valued at $180, were stolen from his home.

SPEAKER: Van Buren Probate Judge Meyer Warshawsky will be featured speaker at annual dinner meeting of county Red Cross chapter to be held at 7 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 7, at Red Cappel restaurant, M-140, South Haven. Chapter will elect new officers during meeting.

'Trib' Will Abandon Its Reform Spellings

CHICAGO (AP) — Thru is through at the Chicago Tribune and so is this, the newspaper announced in an editorial conceding that it had "not won popular support" for its attempt to reform English spelling.

The newspaper said those words and certain others will be retired, joining such former standard Tribune spellings as sodder (for solder), sofomoro (for sophomore) and larif (for tariff).

"Regretfully we concede they (the unorthodox spellings) have not made the grade in spelling class," The Tribune said in an editorial Monday. "When Johnny spelled Tribune style, teacher sat him down.... Sanity some day may come to spelling, but we do not want to make any more trouble between Johnny and his teacher."

The crusade for simplified spelling goes back to 1934 and Robert McCormick, late publisher of The Tribune.

Phantom became fantom, hockey became locky, crumb became cruin, hearse became hdrse, rhyme became rime, island became iland, leather became lether and jazz became jaz.

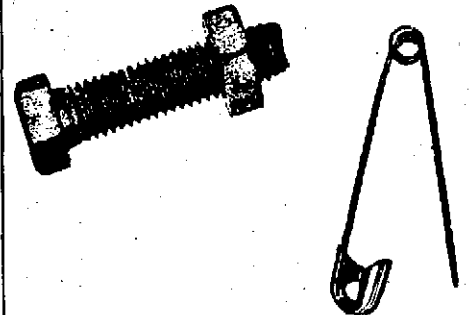

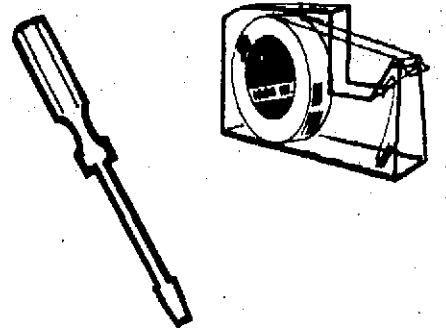

In 1949, additions were made to the original list of 80 simplified or shortened words, but in 1955 many were eliminated.

A few have survived even this latest reduction. The newspaper said it will leave the "ue" off such words as epilog, dialog, and synagog. It will also retain spellings such as archeology and cigaret on the grounds that they have come into common use.

MAKING OF ISLAND: Silt washing down from Paw Paw river is creating small "island" at south end of Maple lake in Paw Paw. Sign at far end warns boaters and water skiers of shallow water. Island recently became more visible when lake level was lowered in order to make repairs on power plant at other end of lake. Question of whether dredging of portion of Paw Paw river (Gates drain) will be allowed, will be heard in Van Buren circuit court on Oct. 15. (Staff photo)

Hometown Forgets Anger; Prepares To Honor Author

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Nearly a half century after the novel "Look Homeward, Angel" enraged this mountain city, Asheville is honoring the author, native son Thomas Wolfe.

The city starts celebrating the 75th anniversary of Wolfe's birth today with four days of exhibits and theater presentations adapted from his novels. Wolfe scholars from several Southern universities will discuss his work.

And those few who remain from Wolfe's days as a young man in Asheville and Chapel Hill will reminisce about the man who wrote so intensely about life and died at age 37 at the height of his career.

"I think one of the functions of this whole celebration is to draw back to Wolfe so much of the attention he deserves," said Prof. Michael Gilliam of the University of North Carolina at Asheville.

Wolfe's fame as a novelist began with the publication in 1929 of his first and best-known work, "Look Homeward, Angel." He also wrote three other major novels, two of which were published after his death.

"Look Homeward, Angel," written primarily in New York, centered around the Gant family of Altamont, "a strange family of Southerners," as they were identified in a contemporary review by the Asheville Citizen. The main character, Eugene Gant, was a thinly disguised caricature of Wolfe himself.

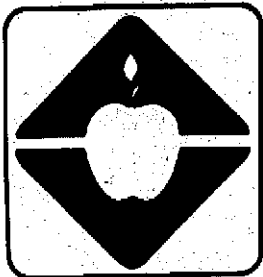

The other characters, many of whom were displayed in a harsh, unflattering style, were drawn so closely from Wolfe's memories that many in Asheville saw themselves in the characterizations.

"His book hit here about the time of the depression and no one was quite sure which hit harder," said Bob Conway, historian at the Wolfe family boarding house, the "Dixieland" of "Look Homeward, Angel."

The book was in such demand that local libraries rented copies for 50 cents a day and bookstores could barely keep copies in stock.

Aware of the hostility, Wolfe stayed away from Asheville for the next seven years, living primarily in New York and making several trips to Europe, where he was popular.

In 1938, during a trip to the West Coast, he contracted tuberculosis of the brain. He was sent to Johns Hopkins University Hospital in Baltimore, where he died on Sept. 15, 1938. He was buried in his hometown cemetery.

Crash-Prevention Technique State Highways 'Groovy'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Department of Highways and Transportation will spend part of some $500,000 this year gouging grooves in Michigan's roads. It's all part of a seven-year-old, $3.5 million program aimed at curbing the conditions that cause your car to skid on wet roads and decreasing the accidents that result. Bob Maki, highway traffic engineer, says 22,860 accidents, 112 of them fatal, occurred on state highways last year in wet weather. Many resulted from cars skidding or hydroplaning out of control, he said. The department's latest, and cheapest, trick is pavement-grooving, most effective on high-speed freeway curves, Maki says. Grooves are three-sixteenths of an inch deep and one-tenth of an inch wide. They're cut parallel to the white lines with pavement saws, three quarters of an inch apart, he says. A yard of grooves costs $1.50, less than half the cost of resurfacing, and significantly prevents hydroplaning, Maki said. That phenomenon occurs at high speeds when a car's front wheels rise off the road on a thin wedge of water, and the driver loses control of his car. Skid-proofing was begun in 1968-69 with slightly over $1 million in road resurfacing and use of special repavement compounds, Maki said. Over the next year, surveys showed that drivers were saved $645,000 in personal and property damage.

'Hunter's Moon' Leads New Celestial Roster

ANN ARBOR — "Shining the whole night through, the beautiful Hunter's Moon of October should help compensate for October's strikingly shorter days," notes University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

Prof. Losh says daylight will drop from about 11 hours and 17 minutes at the beginning of October to just 10 hours and 24 minutes by month's end.

"However, the Hunter's Moon, defined as the first full moon following the Harvest Moon, will begin on Oct. 20 and last for several nights in succession," she explains. "Prevailing the whole night through, this moon is characterized by its very slight delay in rising from night to night."

Two meteor showers will occur during the month, she continues, the Draconids on Oct. 9 and the Orionids on Oct. 22. "Most certainly the bright Hunter's Moon will interfere with spotting the Orionids," she observes.

Prominent stars of the month include Capella, the "Goat," rising in the northeast around sunset.

"Capella is the third brightest star visible from northern latitudes," the U-M astronomer says. "Its temperature and color are very similar to our sun, but it is intrinsically much brighter. If our planet were placed halfway between Capella and the sun, the star would send us 100 times as much light."

Capella is followed in rising by the rest of the stars of the constellation Auriga, which form a well-defined, easily identified pentagon.

Also visible in October, Prof. Losh says, is "one of the most celebrated groups in the whole heavens — a little cluster known as the Pleiades." The Pleiades come up north of east shortly after Capella.

"Surprisingly, the Pleiades are known far and wide despite the absence of a conspicuously bright star," she notes. "To the naked eye, the Pleiades appear to be six stars arranged like a small dipper. Good eyesight will reveal a seventh star in the group, exceptional vision nine or ten, and binoculars will increase the number tremendously."

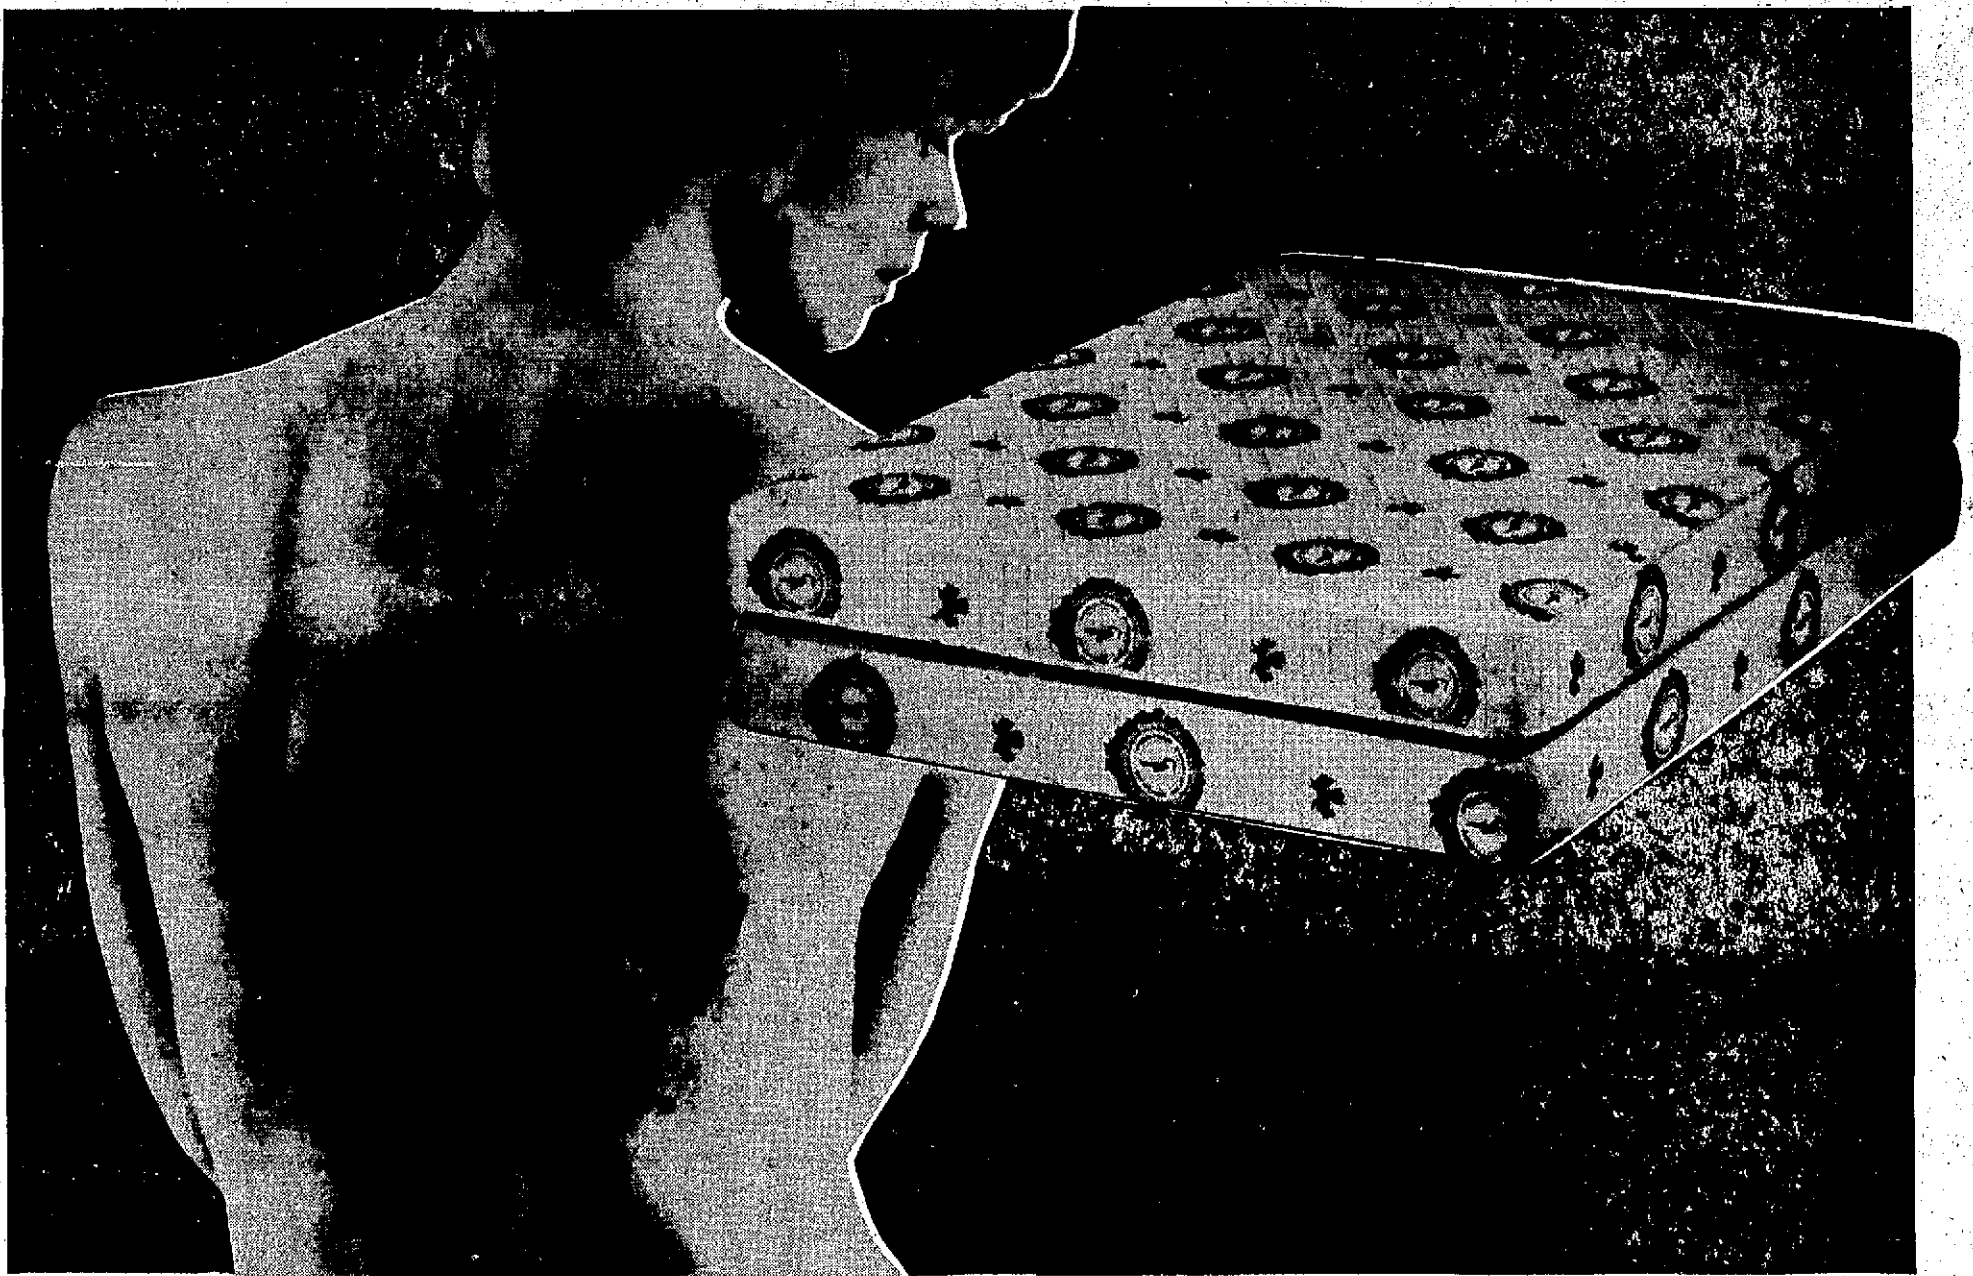

Planets of the month include Jupiter, the bright object rising around sunset in the east.

Rising about two hours after the Pleiades, Mars will complete a triangle with the Pleiades and Capella, Prof. Losh says, adding that one should take care not to confuse the bright red star Aldebaran with the red planet. "Mars is four times brighter and should be easily spotted," she says.

For early risers, Venus will "put on quite a show" in October, she goes on. "Venus has entered the morning sky, and will be rising in the east about three hours before the sun. On the third it reaches the greatest brilliancy of its 'morning star' period, and on both the second and the 31st will be situated just north of the waning crescent moon."

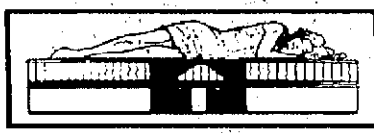

Saturn will be rising around 1 a.m., and on Oct. 27 will be located just five degrees north of the quarter moon.

Shingleton Not MSU Candidate

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State University officials are looking for a new athletic director today after giving Burt Smith the axe Wednesday.

Until they find a replacement, the director of the school's placement service will temporarily guide the troubled Spartan athletic department.

Jack Shingleton, a one-time MSU varsity tennis player, has been named acting athletic director until school officials can find a replacement for Smith, athletic director since 1972.

Shingleton, 53, said he was not a candidate for the $30,000-a-year job.

"The nature of the work does not fit my lifestyle," he said. "I'm an active athlete myself. I like to participate. But I'm not interested in administering athletes on a permanent basis."

But Shingleton, who once played tennis in the U.S. Open at Forest Hills, predicted, "There'll be a lot of people after this job."

School officials said Smith's dismissal had nothing to do with the pending National Collegiate Athletic Association probe of alleged MSU football recruiting violations. The school is scheduled to appear before the NCAA's infractions committee Oct. 13 in Denver.

MSU officials expressed concern for Smith's health following recent abdominal surgery.

"I think Burt did all he could possibly do," Shingleton said. "He worked hard and did his best."

Smith will be given other, as yet unknown, duties within the university, said Jack Breslin, MSU vice president.

A new athletic director will be recommended to MSU President Clifton Wharton after Breslin consults with the school's Athletic Council of faculty, alumni and student representatives, Breslin said.

As athletic director, the 58-year-old Smith replaced Clarence L. "Biggie" Munn, who stepped down after suffering a stroke.

Smith, a University of Michigan graduate, came to MSU in 1954 as an assistant football coach and was named assistant athletic director in 1965.

As a tenured professor at the university, Smith cannot be fired except for gross violation of professional ethics or incompetence.

Shingleton, who won MSU varsity tennis letters in 1947 and 1948, has had a way of turning his avocations into publications.

An avid fisherman, he co-authored a book last year called "The Trout, The Whole Trout and Nothing But The Trout."

This year he wrote a book on another favorite pastime, tennis, called "Increasing Your Net Value."

He also has written numerous articles for professional journals and in 1969 co-authored a book about job placement entitled "Which Niche?"

Shingleton was an interviewer for the Detroit Edison Co. from 1946 to 1948, when he became a personnel specialist for Auto Owners Insurance Co. of Lansing. He came to the university in 1949 as assistant personnel director and became personnel director in 1963.

Miss. State Head Resigns SEC Post

STARKVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Dr. W.L. Giles, president of Mississippi State University, says he resigned as president of the Southeastern Conference because his school is on probation for football recruiting violations.

"I simply felt it would be a reflection on the conference if I continued as president," Giles said after resigning Wednesday from the post he had held since March, 1974.

"I felt that if I did continue, it would appear that we do not regard seriously the rules and regulations under which we operate, and I do indeed regard them as serious," he said.

The SEC vice president, Dr. Fred C. Davidson, president of the University of Georgia, will serve as conference president until the organization's regular election next March.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association recently placed Mississippi State on probation for two years, barring its teams from television appearances and postseason bowl games.

Giles, who as State's president is its representative on the SEC, said he would continue in that capacity. He said his resignation was his decision and that he was "encouraged to stay on by the presidents."

Comet Golfers Dump Rangers

CASSOPOLIS — Jim Kobetz and Scott Becht each shot 40s Wednesday to lead Coloma's golf team to a 183-170 win over Cassopolis at Park Shore Golf Course here.

The Comets, now 9-1 in the Blossomland conference and 10-1 overall, host Devagiac today. The Chieftains are the only team to beat Coloma.

Keith Penoyar had a 41 and Rick Friedman a 42 for the winners.

Marty Beckwith was medalist with a 39 for Cass. Tom Lowe had a 43 and Jim Loupee and Todd Bazata each posted 44s.

Ali, Frazier Plans Unclear

Bruised Pair Hedging On Retirement

MANILA (AP) — Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier both hedged on retirement plans today as they prepared to leave the scene of one of the greatest heavyweight title fights in ring history.

"I don't want to retire as much today as I did after the fight yesterday," world titleholder Ali said, relaxing in his 21st-floor suite of a Manila hotel.

"Tomorrow I will want to retire even less. Somebody will come up with a big stack of money and I will be anxious to go again."

Earlier, Frazier, calling a formal press conference said that, despite pleadings of his family to hang up his gloves, he would not make up his mind until he has explored all the alternatives with his trainer and advisor, Eddie Futch.

"I may say I will retire and then, after a couple of weeks, I will want to get my motor cranked up one more time," he said.

Both Ali and Frazier wore dark glasses to hide the damage around their eyes suffered in the brutal, physical slugfest that ended with Frazier failing to answer the bell for the 15th and final round.

Frazier said his left eye was almost completely closed by the 13th round and he had difficulty seeing on one side of him. There was a small gash and a bruise decorating his right eye and an ugly bump over the left.

"I still wanted to come out for the last round. I wanted to take a shot at it," he explained. "but the boss said different."

Most ringsiders felt Futch made the proper decision, believing Frazier almost certainly would have been knocked out and maybe injured for life had he been permitted to continue.

Ali wore dark slacks and a tight-fitting white shirt as he reclined in a chair and discussed the fight with an absence of his usual bombast and braggadocio. The dark glasses could not hide the fact that his left eye was almost closed.

The champion said he saw no reason that Frazier should retire from the ring. "I don't think he should just because I beat him," Ali said. "After all, he lost to the fastest, greatest fighter of all time. He is younger than I am. He proved he is one hell of a fighter against me."

Discussing his rally when Frazier appeared to have taken charge in the middle rounds, Ali said: "I knew if I didn't pull it out at the end, I might lose. The referee and officials were against me."

"But people don't understand. I start thinking what it would mean if I lost. I was thinking of all the people all over the world pulling for me. Some die of heart attacks when I lose."

"Now Frazier goes into airports and people say, 'Sorry you lost, champ.' I didn't want that happening to me. In a situation like that, I reach down mentally and think of all that is involved."

Ali said his travel plans were incomplete, that he was awaiting word from the Shah of Iran for a possible visit there and he was contemplating a trip to Frankfurt, Germany.

Bears Release Bobby Douglass

CHICAGO (AP) — After six full seasons of rare glory and frequent disappointment with the Chicago Bears, quarterback Bobby Douglass is looking for a fresh start in football — and early indications are he'll have to look hard.

Douglass was released Wednesday by the National Football League team. And after failing to work out a trade deal for himself in the afternoon, he was placed on waivers.

General Manager Jim Finks said he had talked first to five other NFL teams about a possible trade, but "there has not been any interest shown to date."

If the 6-foot-4, 228-pound left-hander is not claimed by another club at the $100 waiver fee before 4 p.m., EDT, today, Douglass will be just another free agent.

Still, he is confident he'll be playing quarterback in the NFL this season. "Something will happen," he said. "I'll be a quarterback somewhere. It depends on contracts and circumstances."

Douglass' attorney, Herb Rudy, called Finks' move "the coldest, the worst thing I've ever heard of in sports. I can't believe it. What a way to treat a human being after all the abuse he's taken. Who tries harder than Bobby?"

Douglass' departure leaves the Bears with two quarterbacks — third-year man Gary Huff and rookie Bob Avellini — and the situation had Finks hunting for another. A team spokesman said late Wednesday the Bears are talking with the NFL about the status of journeyman signal-caller Pete Beathard, who started this season with the now-defunct Chicago Winds of the World Football League. He bounced around the NFL for 10 years before.

"Whether we will sign Beathard or not, we don't know," the spokesman said. "At this point, we just want to talk to him about his football future. We want a third quarterback on our roster, preferably a veteran."

Douglass also was the team's player representative in union negotiations with NFL management over a new contract.

He reportedly received more than $75,000 from the Bears. He was drafted in the second round in 1969 from Kansas University. The Bears hailed him then as their "quarterback of the future," but that future is now the past.

The only thing that looks better is our price.

Lakers Again Face Star Running Back Taking On Schaller, Bridgman

"Play It Again, Sam," could well be the title for Lake Michigan Catholic's football game with Bridgman this Friday night at Dickinson Stadium.

The Lakers overcame Eau Claire's super running back Don McAfee for a 48-26 win last week and this week they will have to worry about the Bees' quick one, Mike Schaller.

In other Red Arrow conference games, Galien (0-2) will travel to Watervliet (1-1), Eau Claire (1-1) at Hartford (2-0) and Berrien Springs (1-1) hosts New Buffalo (0-2).

McAfee gained 274 yards on 33 carries against Catholic and Schaller could also have a field day if he can manage to get outside as much as McAfee did last week. "Schaller is much quicker than McAfee," said Laker head coach Terry Reese. "He runs well and also is a good receiver."

Reese remembers Schaller all too well from last year's 12-6 overtime win by Bridgman. The Bee runner scored both touchdowns, one on a 75-yard punt return and the other was on a seven-yard pass in overtime.

Bridgman, now 1-1 in loop play, isn't just a one-man show

Rose indicated. "Meredith (Tom) is a fine runner and passer and Mutz (Howard) is a great receiver."

Bridgman coach Jerry Planutis said that the two-plateau system the Lakers use could give his team as many problems as it did Eau Claire last week. "We can give them a real battle but we may wear down late in the game," he commented.

Planutis added that his team made some key mistakes in last week's 40-14 win over New Buffalo. "We made some blocking and defensive mistakes," he said. "We can't make those mental mistakes and hope to beat Lake Michigan."

The undefeated and ranked fifth state-wide Lakers showed they had more than one runner in last week's win over the Beavers. Mickey Ashbrook had been handling most of the running chores but Ken Halamka and Mark Frazee showed that the Lakers have two more prongs to their rushing attack by gaining 94 and 90 yards, respectively.

Ashbrook is number two among area rushers with 402 yards while McAfee is tops with 627 yards.

Catholic field general George Welch lived up to his preseason billing as a throwing quarterback by completing 7 of 13 passes for 139 yards and three touchdowns last Friday. "We had a good, balanced offense going," said Rose. "We're going to try and sharpen it up this week."

"I felt our offensive line did a super job in opening holes but our defensive people had a few mental lapses," he added. "If you give Bridgman much room, you'll get into trouble."

Beaver head coach Paul Bergan again feels his team is in the role of underdog with Hartford being undefeated this season and having a six-game win streak going. "Hartford is mostly a running club," indicated Bergan. "Hopefully we'll be able to stay with them; we'll be the spoiler again this week."

The only injury that hasn't really come around for Eau Claire is Larry Westerhoven's knee. "A big worry for us is injuries," said Bergan. "They can really hurt us because we have just 18 players on the team."

Hartford's Phil Mireles had been injured in the Indians' opening game against Lawrence and didn't get the all-clear to play until two and a half hours before last Friday's game against Galien. He responded with a 158 yard rushing game which made coach Bob Teske smile a little.

The Indians are in perhaps the toughest part of their schedule with Eau Claire this week, Lake Michigan Catholic next week and Watervliet after that. "Each game it just seems like we're going up a ladder," said Teske.

Watervliet will be trying to rebound from its 24-14 loss to Berrien Springs last week. "We made some costly mistakes and didn't play very good," said Panther head mentor Jerry Barchett.

"Galien will do a lot of things on offense," he added. "Luther (quarterback Date) burned us last year."

HAPPY REGGIE: Reggie Jackson, Oakland A's slugging right fielder, showed up for workouts wearing a sloppy golf hat but carrying the big bat which led to his tying for the American League home run championship with George Scott of the Milwaukee Brewers. Jackson hit two home runs the last day of the season for his 36 total. The A's meet Boston starting Saturday in the playoffs. (AP Wirephoto)

St. Joseph Meeting Speedy Loy Norrix Wolff Doubtful For Key Clash

First the good news: Tailback Jay Claravino will be ready for St. Joseph's game at Kalamazoo Loy Norrix Friday night.

Now the bad news: Fullback Scott Wolff, the leading Bear rusher, is still limping and listed as "doubtful" for the crucial Big Seven game by coach Ike Muhlenkamp.

Claravino and Wolff were hobbled by sprained ankles last week and St. Joe finished with minus rushing yardage while losing to Kalamazoo Central 17-6 — the lowest Bear score in 29 games.

St. Joseph and Loy Norrix are both 0-1 in the Big Seven and 1-2 on the season, and another league setback would probably wipe out championship hopes. The defending champion Bears had a 10-game conference winning streak snapped two weeks ago in a 24-14 loss to Battle Creek Lakeview — the team which edged Loy Norrix 7-0 last Friday.

Wolff is averaging 5.0 yards per carry and Claravino 4.0 for a St. Joe offense which now has a team mark of only 2.8 per carry.

Quarterback Dave Ziebart, the victim of numerous sacks last week, has added 278 yards passing while connecting on 21 of 46 (457) with two interceptions. Split end Ted Dongillo has been Ziebart's main target with 11 receptions for 190 yards.

If Wolff isn't ready Friday, Mike Hoover will again run at fullback. Other backfield possibilities are Dale Rupley and Dave Tibbitts.

Muhlenkamp says the Bears are working hard in practice this week to improve the running game. He also says Ziebart has "got to set up quicker" on passing plays.

There will be one change in the offensive line. Glenn Averill is off the injured list and will be back at center in place of Mike Van Broeklin, who won last week's "hustle" award.

There will be no changes on defense, where linebacker Dick Goodman was honored as last week's top player after being in on 21 tackles. Linebacker Rick Dyer and tackle Jeff Schmal also received special recognition. "All three of those kids did a great job on defense," declares Muhlenkamp.

The St. Joe defense has yielded 3.7 yards per rushing play this season, and it will get a special test Friday against a Norrix squad which features several "flyers."

Tailback Jo Jo Galloway, fullback Marvin Johnson and split end Daryl Pruitt are all around 10 seconds in the 100 yard dash.

Galloway is averaging about four yards per carry, and Norrix coach Don Blanchard calls him "one of the outstanding running backs in this part of the state."

"They've got speed to burn...they are fast," adds Muhlenkamp. "We've got to get to them before they get out of the backfield...contain them at the line of scrimmage. If they get out and get running, it's all over."

But the explosive potential has virtually gone untapped, as Norrix has had problems with execution and penalties. "When they put it together, they are going to burn somebody, I know that," continues Muhlenkamp.

Norrix, which lost to Sturgis 36-0 in its opener before clobbering Coldwater 23-3, is also big and "very tough on defense...very physical," according to Muhlenkamp.

"Defensively, we feel we have jelled and will continue to play that way," declares Blanchard, while noting that the Knights only allowed Lakeview four first downs last Friday.

The Norrix defense, where the whole front seven is comprised of juniors, is spearheaded by safety Barry Harris, ends Jim Caper (6-4, 190) and Tom McBride (6-2, 185), tackle Steve Kimble (6-0, 190) and linebacker Mike McElrath (6-2, 180).

Harris suffered a mild concussion in last week's game and is "doubtful" Friday. Also on the injured list is Pruitt with rib injuries.

Blanchard sees a very close game on Friday. "I think it will be decided in the fourth quarter," he says.

BH Coasts To Victory

Benton Harbor's girls basketball team ran its record to 7-1 Wednesday by rolling past Muskegon Mona Shores 48-24.

Carmella Hull was the only player on either team to score in double figures. She tallied 11 points. Robin Walker added nine, and Bernadette Hartfield and Debra Jones each had eight.

The Tigers raced to a 28-6 halftime lead and were never headed.

LMC Drops Two In Volleyball

KALAMAZOO — The girls volleyball team from Lake Michigan College lost two matches in a triangular meet hosted by Western Michigan University held here Wednesday.

Mott CC defeated LMC in the first match 15-8, 15-2 and Western won the second match 15-4, 15-5, 17-15.

Shamrocks Down Galien Harriers

LAKESIDE — Berrien Springs placed six men in the top seven to down Galien 10-47 in Red Arrow cross country action at Chikaming golf course Tuesday.

Leading the Shamrocks was Dave Eichberg with a first place time of 18:04. Kevin Carmichael came in second, Rick Ruhl third, Tim Mead fourth and Ralph Baltozar sixth.

Jodi Rabbers scored 23 points for the Lancers.

Kim Foster tallied 14 points to lead Lakeshore's junior varsity team to a 32-15 win over Buchanan in the preliminary game.

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — The Board of Directors of the Pacific Coast League's Tacoma Twins have voted to continue operating in 1976 as a baseball farm club of the Minnesota Twins. The team's officers will be retained.

Vanderbush Sinks Lancers

Patience Vanderbush scored 21 points and pulled down 20 rebounds Wednesday as Buchanan's girls basketball team squeezed by Lakeshore 43-42 at Lakeshore.

The Bucks, now 2-1 in Blossumland conference play and 3-3 overall, played most of the game without two starters. Guard Brenda Mottle and forward Becky Gray were both injured in the first quarter.

Trailing 10-7 at the end of the first quarter, Buchanan took charge in the second period, outscoring the Lancers 16-7 to take a 23-17 halftime lead.

Jodi Rabbers scored 23 points for the Lancers.

Kim Foster tallied 14 points to lead Lakeshore's junior varsity team to a 32-15 win over Buchanan in the preliminary game.

MACPHAIL DEAD: Larry MacPhail, one of baseball's greatest innovators, died in Miami Wednesday. The "Barnum of Baseball," whose vision brought the sport night baseball and Old Timers Day, was 85. (AP Wirephoto)

Innovator Started Night Baseball

Larry MacPhail Dead At 85

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
Larry MacPhail, a baseball innovator who revolutionized the game, will be buried Friday in the small Michigan town of Cass City, where he was born and raised.
MacPhail, who installed the first lights in a major league baseball park, thereby allowing night games, and who began Old Timers' Day, died Wednesday morning in a Miami, Fla., nursing home. He was 85.
"Larry MacPhail was dynamic, bombastic and smart," said Gabe Paul, president of the New York Yankees. "He made many contributions to baseball and I have a special place in my heart and my memories for him."
The first club president to fly his team to all road games and who tapped the Caribbean as a fertile ground for exhibitions and training camps, MacPhail built pennant winners of the Cincinnati Reds, the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Yankees. He retired from baseball after his 1947 Yankees won the World Series.

"I'm finished," he said following the Yanks' victory over the Dodgers. "I promised my wife I'd retire when a team of mine won a World Series."
MacPhail, who came to be known as the "Barnum of Baseball," entered the sport in 1930 when he purchased the Columbus, Ohio, Senators of the American Association for $100,000. He rebuilt the team's park, adding lights, and quickly turned the club into a pennant winner. Then he sold it to Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals for a profit.

He then took over the Cincinnati Reds in 1933, a last-place team that was in debt. MacPhail installed lights there and got his friend, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, to switch them on.
Before long, MacPhail built a winner and the Reds won the National League pennant in 1939 and 1940, just after MacPhail retired from baseball for the first time.
He returned to baseball to do a similar rescue operation on the Dodgers. In Brooklyn's first night game after MacPhail installed lights, Johnny Vander Meer of Cincinnati pitched his second consecutive no-hit game.
But the Dodgers won the National League flag in 1941 and finished second in 1942 before MacPhail left the game once more, this time to join an Army unit during World War II.

After the war, he purchased the Yankees and returned them to power while introducing Old Timers' Day to Yankee Stadium.
In 1958, when the Braves were still in Milwaukee and the A's in Kansas City, MacPhail proposed a four-divisional setup for baseball — close to what exists today — with teams in Seattle, Denver, Dallas, Houston, New Orleans, Atlanta, Toronto, Montreal, Mexico City and Havana. He also suggested second teams be located in New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco and either Detroit or Philadelphia.
His survivors include his widow, Jean; two sons, Lee, president of the American League, and William, former vice president of CBS, and two daughters, Jeanne and Marian.

Career Clips

Jim Czire, former St. Joseph high school standout, was named offensive hustler of the week for his play in Michigan's 14-14 standoff with Baylor last week Saturday. Czire, a senior, is the Wolverines' starting center.

Charlie Shafer, former Lakeshore all-stater, is one of seven Michigan State varsity football players nominated for Academic All-Big Ten honors. This means the players have attained grades of B or better (3.0 on the 4.0 scale) throughout their college careers. Shafer, a sophomore tight end, is sidelined for the season with a knee injury.

Sophomore flanker Maurice Mitchell (Bangor) grabbed one pass for 23 yards in Northern Michigan's 41-14 pounding of Nebraska-Omaha last Saturday.

Pat Jones, a junior from Benton Harbor, worked as the No. 2 tailback for Western Michigan in its 20-0 loss at the hands of Northern Illinois last Saturday. Jones, a walk-on, has gained 13 yards in six carries.

Unbeaten Chiefs

Clip Mustangs

DOWAGIAC — Jon Steimle carded a 39 Wednesday to lead Dowagiac's golf team to its ninth straight Blossomland conference win, a 188-208 victory over River Valley at Indian Hills.

Jim Laing and Bob Watkins each posted 48s and John Kabara had a 47 for the winners. The Chiefs, unbeaten in league play, travel to Coloma (9-1) tonight.

Jeff Hass had a 50 for River Valley, followed by Dave Hausmann's 51, a 52 by Rick Hoffmann and Mark Makinson's 55.

Mauch Firing Ends Long Expo Career

MONTREAL (AP) — Last Wednesday night, as Gene Mauch strolled to a position near second base at Jarry Park, a deep-throated chorus of boos rose from the crowd.
It was Fan Appreciation Night and the Montreal fans demonstrated without question they did not appreciate the managing efforts of Mauch, who guided the Expos to an unspectacular fifth-place tie with Chicago in the National League's East Division.
"The reason I decided to come out here is that I knew a lot of you would get a kick out of it," Mauch told the crowd. "Now that you've had a kick out of it, I want to introduce to you for the last time...this season...a bunch of guys you're going to be cheering for a long, long time." Mauch could have stopped his second sentence with "last time," because he will no longer be introducing Expos players to Montreal baseball fans.

A week after his hostile reception from Montreal's baseball fans, Mauch's career with the seven-year-old Expos is history. Mauch, 48, was fired Wednesday along with all of his coaches — pitching coach Cal McLish, third-base coach Dave Bristol, first-base coach Walt Hrinjak, bullpen coach Jerry Zimmerman and part-time batting instructor Duke Snider.
"It was the worst thing they could do," said pitcher Steve Renko. "Gene Mauch is a super man and a super manager. I'll tell you one thing, he never ever put the blame on any of his players."
"I think they fired him to cover up for themselves. Fans booing him? Do they know as much about baseball as Gene Mauch?"
"Gene Mauch is one of the finest managers in baseball. What did they expect us to do this year with all the young guys? We won 75 games with them and the most we ever won with experienced players was 79."
"Anyway, I don't mind what I say because I doubt if I'll be there next year," Renko concluded.
Mauch won 499 and lost 627 games during his tenure with Montreal. He was hired Sept. 5, 1968, three months after being fired by the Philadelphia Phillies. He had been managing in Philadelphia from 1960 after taking over from Eddie Sawyer.

Expos President John McHale said the decision to fire Mauch was made after a board of directors meeting and said there was a need for a change because the future Expos "need a different touch and a different type of handling."
McHale said the fans had a bearing on the decision but added they were not a major factor in the decision. "We must always listen to our fans," he said. "We were convinced they were looking for and wanted a change."
McHale said Mauch, who has been fighting a form of pneumonia for the past three weeks, "took the news like a professional."
"I'm fired," Mauch told his wife, Nina Lee, when she came home a few minutes later.

Haslett Powers Lakeshore Win

BUCHANAN — Dave Haslett carried a 39 Wednesday to lead Lakeshore's golf team to a 171-185 win over Buchanan at Brookwood Golf Course here.
Harry Grundke posted a 43, Bob Gelesko a 44 and Don Richards a 45 for the Lakers, now 12-5 on the year.
Richard Eichler led Buchanan with a 42. Dave Runkewich finished with a 44, Chris Stockwell had a 49 and Kris Moulds a 50.

Lions' Forzano Defends Russ Thomas Over Deals

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Coach Rick Forzano says some of the heat should be taken off Russ Thomas, the general manager of the Detroit Lions, over his failure to make any major off-season deals.

"He gets a lot of heat for not picking up certain players," Forzano said, "but he really did something good in picking up Jon Morris, Jon Stagers, Richard Hicks, Charlie West and Ray Jarvis."

Morris, 12-year veteran center acquired from the New England Patriots in the summer for a draft choice, stepped right in admirably to fill the gap left when Guy Dennis walked out of training camp during the exhibition season.

"He's playing the best of any center right now in the National Football League," Forzano said.

Dennis is back now. He returned Wednesday.

But Morris won't be budged from center. Dennis probably will be used at left guard in Monday night's home opener against Dallas. He will be taking the place of Gordon Jolley, who was placed on the injured reserve list after undergoing knee surgery following his injury in Sunday's triumph at Atlanta.

Hicks, a free agent cut by Cincinnati, also is a center. He is used on punt and field goal situations.

West, an eight-year veteran, came from Minnesota last year in a trade for a 1975 No. 3 draft choice and is a starting safety.

Wide receiver Stagers has been with Detroit two weeks since having been acquired on waivers from Green Bay. A shoulder injury had bothered him while with the Packers, but he passed his tough Lions' physical and is being counted on to return punts or fill in behind Jarvis or rookie Dennis Franklin.

This is Jarvis' fifth year in the league, including stops at Atlanta and Buffalo. He caught two passes his first three years, then three last season, his first in Detroit. In Sunday's victory at Atlanta, Jarvis doubled his career total with five receptions against the Falcons.

Dennis is a seven-year veteran. He quit the Lions after an exhibition game, saying simply that he didn't want to play any more.

A club spokesman said Dennis called the Lions a few weeks ago and expressed interest in coming back. He called again this week, the spokesman said, after hearing of Jolley's injury. Jolley had moved into a starting spot with Dennis' departure.

Champion Flyers Powerful Again

From ASSOCIATED PRESS — The Philadelphia Flyers, termed by left wing Dave Schultz as "the most unpopular Stanley Cup champions ever," are dealing from a position of strength as they open defense of their second consecutive National Hockey League title. Flyers Coach Fred Shero admits only cautious optimism as the 1973-74 campaign begins. "What you did yesterday means nothing. It's what you do today," he says. "We're in the toughest division in the league and we're no better than any other team. It's going to be tough."

Some observers would argue that point, although all four teams in Division I—the Flyers, New York Rangers and Islanders, and Atlanta Flames —finished with winning records last season. Goalie Bernie Parent, the man who has starred in the two league championships, lost 15 pounds over the summer ("Drinking low-calorie beer," he jokes) and is "already playing like it's the playoffs," according to star center Bobby Clarke.

Clarke, last season's Most Valuable Player, is playing the same way for Coach Shero, who again rides shotgun over the league's fightingest team. "And I want to get my guys to play better than they have."

It's a dream that may not have to be realized, for few clubs in the league can match the power of the sheer determination the Flyers have shown in their championship years. With a roster that's unchanged from last season except for the retirement of defenseman Ted Harris and the trade to Washington of utility man Bill Clement, the Flyers easily are the team to beat this season.

In Division II, Vancouver's Canucks will face a stiff challenge from the much-improved St. Louis Blues, while Chicago is expected to fade further from its high-flying days of the past.

Minnesota, coached by Ted Harris, remains thin on talent other than 37-goal scorer Bill Goldsworthy and scrappy Dennis Hextall. Kansas City, the division doorman in its rookie season last year, has not improved much but showed eagerness last winter.

Vancouver, St. Louis and Chicago, the top three finishers in Division II last year, ended the season within four points of each other.

The Canucks, who won the division crown with 88 points, emphasize size in this year's edition. "We definitely won't have as many little guys as in previous years," says Coach Phil Maloney, who guided the team to its first playoff berth ever last year. But size must be used effectively; the Canucks had a giant defense two years ago, averaging over six feet and 200 pounds, but Vancouver got so many penalties the team stopped hitting.

The Blues acquired left wings Ted Irvine and Bert Wilson, right wing Bert Wilson and center Bob MacMillan from the Rangers during the off-season and now have one of the most physical clubs in the NHL. The goal-tending is solid with WHA jumper Gilles Gratton, top draft choice Ed Staniowski and veteran Ed Johnston, and with an attack led by center Garry Unger, the Blues may well be a threat.

Chicago is getting older, but not necessarily better. The North Stars gave up a harrowing 341 goals last season and Coach Harris will try to change that. Kansas City had a typical expansion season but showed potential under coach Rep Guidolin.

Pearson Wins Pole For National 500

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — "I think it was an engine they built real loose," David Pearson said after he had captured the richest pole-position purse in the history of stock car racing.

Pearson, using a special qualifying engine in his Wood Brothers-prepared Mercury, won $10,400 Wednesday and the front-row inside starting position for Sunday's $170,415 National 500 Grand National race.

The veteran driver, who has won the last four poles here and six this season, bettered his year-old National 500 qualifying record with a speed of 161.701 miles an hour around the high-banked 1.5-mile Charlotte Motor Speedway. His previous mark for a small-block engine was 158.749 m.p.h.

Dave Marls, who won his first Grand National race last week, the Old Dominion 500, was clocked at 159.607 in a in the K&K racing team's Dodge. The second-best speed in time trials gave the Skyland, N.C., speedster the outside pole and $500.

Three-time Indianapolis 500 victor A.J. Foyt, driving a Chevrolet, and Darrell Waltrip, also in a Chevrolet, won second-row starting spots with speeds of 158.483 and 158.290 respectively.

Buddy Baker, whose Ford was timed at 157.816, and Chevrolet driver Benny Parsons, clocked at 157.733, landed third-row starting positions.

The lucrative pole award, $8,400 more than the Daytona 500 and $400 more than the Indy 500, attracted considerable interest among drivers, race officials and spectators — 21,208 fans showed up to set a track record for qualifying.

"Leonard (Wood) told me it was just a qualifying engine," Pearson said, adding that Leonard, half of the famed car-building team, told him "it wouldn't last too long and not to practice any more than I had to."

How many drivers ran special engines? "I don't know. I'm sure everybody did a little bit extra, trying to get faster," Pearson said.

Asked if he thought anybody violated rules of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR), he laughingly replied, "I suspect all of them did — but me."

U-M Best In Rushing Defense

Buckeye Statistics Leader

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State, ranked No. 2 nationally and the only undefeated, untied team in the Big Ten, has a pretty good edge in conference statistics.

The Buckeyes lead in four of eight team categories and are second in two others. The Buckeyes lead in rushing with 317.7 yards a game, in total offense with a 408.7 average, in total defense on a yield of 226 yards a game and in scoring defense with an average of 5.3 points a game.

Michigan leads in rushing defense, yielding 122.7 yards a game but the Buckeyes are only a shade behind with a 122 average. Wisconsin is tops in scoring with 25 points a game and Ohio State is second at 23.3.

Purdue is tops in both passing and passing defense. The Boilermakers have averaged 151.3 yards a game passing with Illinois second at 148.

Purdue has allowed only 73 passing yards a game, an average far ahead of runnerup Minnesota at 86.3 yards.

Michigan is second to Ohio State in rushing with a 294 average and the Wolverines also are second in total offense with a 371.3 average.

Minnesota is second to Ohio State in both total defense with a yield of 248.7 yards and in scoring defense allowing an average of only nine points a game.

In individual statistics, Archie Griffin is the league's rushing leader with a 131-yard average per game. That total also is good enough to give Archie the lead in total offense.

Second to Griffin in rushing is Gordon Bell of Michigan with a 121-yard average followed by Pete Johnson of Ohio State at 109.7. Johnson is also the scoring leader with nine touchdowns and 54 points.

Gates Brown Now Scout

DETROIT (AP) — The most prolific pinch hitter in American League history, Detroit Tiger Gates Brown, has announced his retirement to become a Tiger scout.

Detroit General Manager Jim Campbell said Tuesday the 35-year-old Brown will assume his new duties immediately, and begin with two weeks of orientation at Tiger offices in Detroit before taking to the road.

Brown was signed by the Tigers in 1959. He retires with the American League record for career pinch hits — 107 — and pinch hit home runs — 18. He went to the plate 505 times as a pinch hitter.

Campbell said Brown will scout teams in the Florida Instructional League and then will assist the Tigers in their preparations for the free agent draft in January.

Terry Jones of Indiana and Kurt Steger of Illinois are one two in passing. Jones has 28 completions for 377 yards and three touchdowns while Steger has 20 completions for 336 yards and two touchdowns. Steger also has been intercepted six times.

Paul Beery of Purdue is the leading pass receiver. Beery has grabbed nine passes for 171 yards and a 19.0 average. Jim Pooler of Northwestern, Brian Bashenagel of Ohio State and Jesse Townsend of Purdue have caught eight passes each.

Bob Wood of Michigan is the leader in kick scoring with seven of nine field goal attempts and five-of-five conversions for 26 points.

Tom Skladany of Ohio State is the leading punter with a 46.1 average and Northwestern's Randy Dean is second with a 44.1 average. Steve Wagner of Wisconsin is No. 1 in interceptions with four. Craig Cassidy of Ohio State has three.

Dave Schick of Iowa is averaging 28.4 yards in kickoff returns followed by Keith Calvin of Indiana with a 23.8 average. Tim Fox of Ohio State is tops in punt returns with an 8.9 average followed by Tom Hannon of Michigan State at 7.8.

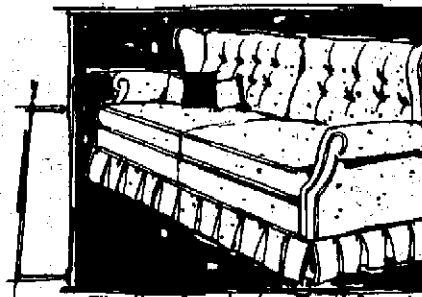

CUB GM: E.R. "Salty" Saltwell has been named general manager of the Chicago Cubs. He has been with the Cub organization for 20 years, and is the first person to hold title of general manager since 1949. (AP Wirephoto)

Pirates Enjoy Clowning

Even Manager Doesn't Escape Needling

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two Japanese baseball coaches were about to visit Danny Murtaugh recently when some Pittsburgh Pirate players advised them of the supposed way to greet an American manager.

"... you," the visitors told Murtaugh, bowing as they recited the obscenity.

Murtaugh laughed. Even he does not escape the needling that is habitual among the Pirates — and, perhaps, the key to their success. Their play does not always blend smoothly, and their personalities are not all harmonious. Yet the banter never abates.

"You're asking for it if you take yourself too seriously or walk around with your head down," says newcomer Bill Robinson. "We lost a doubleheader one Sunday. It really surprised me the next day that everybody was joking on the bus, and we beat Cincinnati that night."

The Pirates will be in Cincinnati this weekend to open the National League playoffs.

Jerry Reuss, a 6-foot-5 blond, will pitch the opener. He leads the team in victories and use of baby powder; puffs of white follow him from the locker room.

Reuss isn't the tallest Pirate pitcher. Rookie John "Candy Man" Candelaria is 6-foot-7, and so poised he never let up when the Pirates staked him to a 22-0 lead one day against the Cubs.

The pitchers, who had the second best ERA in the league, also include Ken Brett. His brother George plays at Kansas City and says Ken gave him vital tips for the majors: his phone numbers.

Reliever Dave Giusti ribs everybody. "Say something, anything," he once shouted at Larry Demery, a quiet youth who pitched one game with a spike gash in his hand.

There's also Dock Ellis, whose hot rhetoric got him suspended a few months ago. He's back but not his luxury car; someone stole it and burned it.

Big bats include leftfielder Richie Zisk, a Brooklyn-born trivia buff, still playing without a contract. There's also confident Al Oliver, who says he "always" hits the ball hard, except for one spell this season he admitted was "my first slump — ever."

Other potent hitters are second baseman Ronnie Stennett and catcher Manny Sanguillen, both natives of Colon, Panama. Stennett got a year's supply of a "7-UP" after going seven-for-seven one game, and Sanguillen leads baseball in grinding.

At short is Frank Taveras, who hit .212 this season. He takes a lot of ribbing, but he was the only Pirate to get a full bucket of champagne on his head after the title clincher.

At third is Richie Hebner, a grave digger's son from Boston. He has a natural swing, plus a flair for obscenities.

At practice Tuesday, reserve catcher Duffy Dyer watched as the ball whistled around the infield. "A thing of beauty," Dyer yelled. "That's why we're playing while other goins are going home."

"Stop it, Dyer," Giusti shouted. "This isn't Ohio State."

Boast Rollicking Superstars

Reds 'Laugh' To Crown

CINCINNATI (AP) — If 1974 was a character-building season for the Cincinnati Reds, 1975 has been the Year of the Character.

The rollicking Reds, a happy-go-lucky band that thrived on locker room ribbing, may have set a National League record for laughs en route to a division title. The only thing they took seriously was baseball.

They heard the raps and laughed up their critics' sleeves. They had a manager considered "too nice," some superstars who might be getting "too old," and a pitching staff pronounced "too thin."

But Cincinnati's collection of levity-loving "hit-men" made life miserable for opposing pitchers, winning the most games since 1909 on the way to burying the defending National League champion Los Angeles Dodgers by an unthinkable 20-game margin.

Tough-minded Pete Rose, ever-ready to start something, was a chief agitator — either with his bat or his nothing-is-sacred needling.

He had company from sidekick Joe Morgan, whose quips were as quick as his blazing bat. Morgan, when he doesn't have a hand in the hilarity, is busy demoralizing the opposition with his many talents.

Morgan, a prime contender for the league's Most Valuable Player award, has been described by the Dodgers' Don Sutton as "the wheels of the Big Red Machine."

One of the most versatile superstars, the 5-foot-7 Californian has some of baseball's best credentials ever for MVP consideration: a career-high .327 batting average, 67 stolen bases, 17 home runs, 132 walks, 107 runs and 94 RBIs.

Charismatic Johnny Bench got the season off to a cork-popping start with his extravagant wedding to New York model Vickie Chesser on the eve of spring training. And the Reds have had a taste for champagne ever since.

Bench, a country-western music lover, was never at a loss for words when the needling started. When Morgan voiced dismay that his batting average was slipping because of little rest, he found a cut, aspirin, a pillow and a some slippers in front of his locker the next day.

Bench and his fellow culprits got the message across.

Sluggo Tony Perez, the most prolific RBI man in baseball over the past eight years, was no shrinking violet in face of the barrage of high humor.

His favorite target was roommate Dave Concepcion, the Reds slick fielding shortstop. "Davey is baseball's best 80-game player," said Perez, referring to Concepcion being prone to injury.

The quiet man is centerfielder

Cesar Geronimo. But he stalks the outfield with a deadly grace. He planned to become a Catholic priest in his native Dominican Republic, but baseball beckoned. Blessed with a bazooka arm, Geronimo left the seminary to sign a contract with the New York Yankees, who had plans of converting him to a pitcher.

The pitching staff has its characters, too. The Comeback Kid is Gary Nolan, soon to be 27 and the father of four. A self-described "homebody," Nolan, one of three 15-game winners on the team, is a shadow of the pitcher he was in 1972. Arm miseries sidelined him for two seasons, but the savvy and fortitude are still there.

Texas Leading In Rushing

NEW YORK (AP) — Texas is back on top... in rushing, that is.

The Longhorns, 1½ weeks away from their annual Cotton Bowl showdown with Oklahoma, leads the nation's major colleges in rushing with 390.3 yards a game, according to figures released today by the NCAA Statistics Service.

Texas, with its awesome Wishbone attack, led the nation in rushing during 1969-70. Then came Oklahoma's Wishbone in 1971 with the all-time record of 472.4 yards a game. The Sooners dominated the picture before Texas took over.

tion's total offense leader with 516 yards per game rushing and passing.

San Diego State leads in passing with 288.5 yards a game. Texas A&M is tops in total defense with 140 yards yielded per game and in rushing defense with 52.7 allowed per game. Princeton leads in pass defense with a 34-yard-per-game mark.

Arabian Boom Puts Fabled Thief Of Bagdad To Shame

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent
BAHRAIN (AP) — Americans who swarmed this past summer to the steaming Persian Gulf to see billions of dollars worth of military and industrial contracts now are telling tales of war and hardship.

Inflation, running an unofficial 40 per cent in Iran and slightly less on the Arabian side of the Gulf, robbed them of their tax-free salaries like a thief in the night. A recent strike by 800 Bell helicopter instructors in Iran, most of them Vietnam veterans, was only one indicator of widespread and growing expatriate discontent at spiraling rent, education and food costs.

In their rush to train a whole army and build new prefabricated cities for the Saudi Arabians, to sell garbage trucks and oil refineries and fully staffed hospitals to the Iranians, Bahrainis and Kuwaitis; to enrich the Emirates of the bleak Trucial Coast with hotels, drive-in banks and fried chicken franchises, the American adventurers — side by side with their German, French, British and Japanese rivals — encountered horrendous housing

In Tehran, where hotels are booked 20 months in advance, a Boston architect located a bed by having himself committed to a hospital.

Red Adair's oil well firefighters flew in from Houston to fight a field out of control off Dubai and promptly shot off some sparks about restaurant prices.

"Four steaks and a couple of drinks apiece set us back $120 at dinner last night," grumbled blowout specialist "Coots" Matthews. "Then for lunch today five hamburgers and three beers came to $24.50."

Peanut butter, at $5 a small jar, is more expensive than caviar in Tehran. Gasoline is 48 cents a gallon in Saudi Arabia, but drinking water is 65 cents a bottle. Greens fees are $15 at Tehran's Imperial Country Club. Even at an average monthly rental of $1,000, a two-bedroom apartment is almost impossible to find in the Gulf.

Massive port delays and shortages of material brought out by their billion dollar spending spree have slowed construction of the American-style suburbs going up in most Gulf countries for families of foreign workers streaming in to build their new economies.

Most of the big contractors like Bell, Grumman and Westinghouse put dependent families up for 45 days or so in a hotel, and help pay the children's education costs, which at the already overcrowded Tehran American School involves $1,000 a year tuition per child. Many of the smaller subcontractors, however, allow only three days in a hotel room, pay no education fees and refuse to provide return air tickets for families of the growing number of workers who terminate their contracts before a year is out in frustration over inflated prices.

"The firms follow a carrot-on-a-stick philosophy," said engineer Ray DeManio of Shreveport, La., giving up his shipyard job in Bandar Abbas after seven months. "You gotta stay a year to get your ticket back home. If you hang around that long, you might as well stick out another five months to earn your U.S. income tax exemption. Then you might as well finish out your two years and get the end-of-contract bonus. I've been here long enough to weave a rug and I'm a thousand bucks in the hole."

Vietnam veterans hired to

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The salaries and fringe benefits are high but some Americans in the oil-rich Persian Gulf are finding they can go broke, as an AP Special correspondent reports in this second of three articles.)

an official vehicle near the U.S. Embassy, Terrorist bombs have been aimed at U.S. firms in Kuwait, and a number of American companies, like International Harvester and San Francisco's huge Bechtel construction firm, are moving their operations from Beirut because of Lebanon's continuing civil strife and Palestinian terrorist problems.

"We don't go out at night and we don't stand on the street corner in the mornings with out briefcases in hand waiting for rides," admitted Bill James, Grumman's director of personnel in Tehran.

Doing business in the Persian Gulf entails other corporate hazards like paying $15,000 under the table to get a telephone installed in Iran.

Like the oil companies, U.S. manufacturing firms in the Gulf run the risk of being nationalized one day.

"Firms are becoming apprehensive of doing business here when they have to take all the risks and then go public if they turn a profit," said executive director Irwin Nye of the Iran American Chamber of Commerce, which has boomed from 20 to 280 member firms in less than two years and lists nearly 500 U.S. companies doing business in Iran.

Doing business in a rapidly expanding economy entails such pitfalls as sweating out two-month ship turn-arounds at the crowded Gulf ports and waiting five days to clear a cargo through customs.

B.F. Goodrich, one of Iran's pioneer U.S. manufacturers, found itself burdened with a profit-sharing plan that prohibited it from paying less than last year's bonus, even if no profit was turned.

There was also the episode of the control tower at Iran's new Shiraz airport, where the shaft that the architect provided for elevators was filled with ducts by the air conditioning sub-contractor who got there first.

Visiting Expert On Hearing Will Speak

BERRIEN SPRINGS — An expert with hearing-impaired children who is visiting from Denver, Colo., will be the speaker at a meeting of the Parents of Oral-Hearing Impaired Children of Southwestern Michigan.

The public may attend the meeting on Thursday, Oct. 9, at 7:30 p.m. at Sylvester school in Berrien Springs, according to a spokesman for the group.

The expert, Miyeko Harada, an occupational therapist at Porter Memorial hospital in Denver, will also be leading a week-long workshop, Oct. 6-10, for teachers and parents of students enrolled in Sylvester school's Berrien county day program for hearing-impaired children.

Mrs. Harada is one of the few occupational therapists in the United States who is recognized as an expert with hearing-impaired children, said the spokesman.

Catholic Teacher Workshop Leader

Sister Mary Ann Rybaczek, mathematics instructor at Lake Michigan Catholic high school, St. Joseph, will be a workshop leader at the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics 1975 State Conference at Traverse City, Oct. 9-11.

The workshop, "Games and Manipulatives to Motivate Students," will be concerned with the use of games and various devices as effective teaching methods according to Sister Mary Ann.

The annual conference will be attended by about 800 mathematics instructors. It provides an opportunity for teachers to share common concerns and to keep current with develops in mathematics, Sister said.

Sister Mary Ann received her master's degree in mathematics from the University of Detroit.

September Road Deaths Drop

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan State Police report that 156 people died in traffic accidents on state roads in September, a 22 per cent drop from the same month a year ago. In September 1974, 200 persons died. The month's total this year was also 43 below the average for September from 1970-74. The September toll brought to 1,286 the total for the first nine months of the year. This is 68, or 5 per cent, less than the 1,354 recorded in the same time last year.

New Encephalitis Cases

DETROIT (AP) — Twelve cases of mosquito-transmitted St. Louis encephalitis occurred in Michigan in the last two months, with five more cases confirmed Wednesday by Michigan health officials. State health officials said the mosquitoes that transmit St. Louis encephalitis have gone into hibernation and the danger of contracting the disease is past. The newly confirmed cases were in central Michigan. They occurred at least a month ago, but lab tests were just recently completed, officials said.

Boost Milk Prices

DETROIT (AP) — The wholesale price of milk will be increased 30 cents per 100 pounds beginning Oct. 13, according to the Michigan Milk Producers Association. A spokesman for a large Detroit dairy said the increase would be passed along to consumers by hiking the price of milk on the shelf by about a penny per quart. The increase will put an extra 30 cents into the pockets of Lower Peninsula farmers, as dairies begin paying $10 per hundredweight instead of the current $9.70. The MMPA represents 5,400 dairy farmers.

Capture Third Escapee

MARSHALL, Mich. (AP) — The third of four men to escape from the Calhoun County Jail last month has been apprehended. Calhoun County authorities identified the man as 25-year-old Gregory Wade. Deputies said he was taken without incident, although he was armed at the time. Authorities would not say immediately where the recapture took place, citing pending arrests. Wade had been serving time on a murder conviction when he and three other inmates overpowered two county jail guards and fled. Two others were recaptured in Battle Creek. The fourth man, Kevin Dewalt of Battle Creek, is still being sought.

Endorse After-School Uses

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Use of school buildings after classroom hours has been endorsed by the state Board of Education as crucial to the effort to make education available to people of all ages. The idea of community school use includes more than opening the building facilities to citizen use after class, however, said John Porter, state superintendent of public instruction. Schools are uniquely able to act as catalysts because they possess tax resources, neighborhood buildings, daily contact with at least a quarter of the population and equipment that is only partly used, Porter said.

Will Be More Winners

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Early Bicentennial lottery ticket sales figures show 400,000 more tickets were sold than expected, state lottery officials said Wednesday. They said the sales will allow them to add three more numbers to the planned 17-number winners drawing Oct. 14. Prizes totaling over $3 million will be given to some 2,800 of those who bought the 1.4 million $5 tickets before sales ended Sept. 23, said a lottery spokesman. Prizes in the game range from $100 to the top $1 million amount, given as half cash and 20 yearly payments of $25,000.

A New Constitution

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Nearly 150 seniors from Saginaw County's 19 public and private high schools plan to convene Jan. 26-28 at the Saginaw Civic Center to write a new, hypothetical Constitution for the United States. The convention, co-sponsored by the Saginaw County Bicentennial Commission and the Saginaw News, is the only bicentennial event of its type anywhere in the country, according to Burrows Morley, chairman of the commission. An 18-member faculty steering committee will offer guidance. As part of their preparations, the students will visit Lansing Nov. 12 to tour the Michigan Constitutional Convention Museum and confer with former delegates to state conventions.

Anti-Polish Bias?

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — State and federal authorities will be asked to investigate allegations of discrimination against Polish-Americans attending Saginaw Valley State College, says the head of the school's Institute of Polish Studies. Richard D. Wenek, currently under fire as director of the institute, says Polish-Americans at the school have been subjected to "long trains of slanders, slurs, insults and ethnic discrimination." Wenek said the Michigan Civil Rights Commission and the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare will be contacted and given a list of specific complaints. A college spokesman said to his knowledge, no discrimination against Polish-Americans exists at the college.

Berrien Springs Offers Home Repair Grants, Loans

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Applications for low interest loans or grants of up to $4,000 for home improvements are now available here for qualifying elderly and low-income homeowners.

The funds are to come from a $178,250 federal grant received by the village in July.

Applications are available at the village hall, according to Leslie Cripps, program administrator.

The village has budgeted about $42,000 of the total federal grant to be used for restoring owner-occupied property to meet minimum code standards, said Cripps.

Grants to elderly and low-income homeowners will be parceled out by the village council based on financial need.

Homeowners with a severe financial need may receive an outright grant for the cost of improvements up to $4,000, he said.

In other cases, when the homeowner would be eligible for a private loan, he may apply for a reduced interest grant which would lower the interest on the loan to 3 percent.

If the homeowner can afford to repay a private loan, then he would not be eligible for a direct grant, said Cripps. He would only be eligible for the reduced interest loan.

The program to aid elderly and low income homeowners is part of a community development project in which the federal government has awarded $178,250 to Berrien Springs for renewal and upgrading of services a housing.

The grant was made under the communities development act. About $4 million in grants were issued statewide.

Another portion of the grant has been earmarked for developing the courthouse square on North Cass street.

Other projects which may use grant money include a new well and pump for the village, a sanitary sewer study, new sidewalks, storm drains and street paving.

Effective use of the grant money, said Cripps, will put Berrien Springs in a favorable position to receive more money during the remaining four years the act is in effect.

Each year, a separate application must be submitted to the department of housing and urban development, said Cripps.

EARNs DEGREE: David L. Landsburg, son of Mrs. Cora and the late Keith R. Landsburg of Fennville, has been awarded a Ph.D. in education from University of Michigan. He is currently in fourth year as director of community services at Westark Community college, Ft. Smith, Ark.

Lawmaker Sees

Pro-Turkey Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — A key congressman predicts the House will reverse itself and vote to relax the U.S. arms embargo against Turkey.

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the House International Relations Committee, said Wednesday, "We're going to win and they know it, and that's why they came in with this delaying tactic," referring to a compromise offer by supporters of the embargo.

In Berrien Fifth District court because the victims in the cases decided not to testify. The victims in the cases were also the defendants.

Alexander Davis, 23, of Chicago, and Jerome M. Johnson, 22, of 253 Bellview, Benton Harbor, faced charges of assaulting each other with shotguns Sept. 20 in the 800 block of Vineyard street, Benton Harbor.

Johnson, who was wounded in the face by a few shotgun pellets during the incident, filed a complaint with Benton Harbor police, who arrested Davis. After further investigation, police arrested Johnson, who originally reported that he did not know his assailant. Both men were released after yesterday's court appearances.

SJ Elks To Honor Nine 'Old Timers'

St. Joseph Elks lodge No. 541 will honor nine new members into its "Old Timers club" Thursday, Oct. 9. Exalted Ruler Robert Dasse said today.

Honorary life memberships will go to Donald Coon, Elmer Kirchhoff, Neal Newton, Edward Koehn, Henry Wolting, Tom Sparks, Richard Hooker, Leland Hill and Donald Briney. Coon and Briney are past exalted rulers.

The lodge now has 88 honorary members, 18 with more than 50 years in the lodge. John Morlock has been a member of the Elks for 62 years. The 88 honorary members total 3,408 years of membership.

The St. Joseph lodge was chartered July 12, 1900. It is celebrating its 75th anniversary. It has 1,179 members as of Oct. 1.

Mexican Bus Crash Kills 45

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A flaming collision between a trailer truck, a crowded bus and two other vehicles killed 45 persons on a foggy highway near Mexico City, the Red Cross said.

Police said 16 other persons were hospitalized, seven of them in critical condition. A survivor said the bus was carrying at least 80 passengers.

"You could hear people screaming in the bus while it burned," Antonio Meza Ramirez, 24, said from a hospital stretcher. "The whole bus was covered in flames. People were fighting and hitting each other trying to get out the windows."

The accident occurred Tuesday on the Mexico City-Toluca highway, 35 miles west of the capital. Police said many of the passengers on the bus were on their way to work in Mexico City.

The truck, loaded with iron rods used in construction, apparently collided head-on with the bus and sideswiped the other two vehicles officials said.

Frustration Shows In Detroit Desegregation Appeal Case

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Frustration at the long proceedings which have marked the Detroit school desegregation case surfaced Wednesday during oral arguments on a motion in the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

"Don't you people ever talk to each other?" asked Judge George Edwards at one point in the hearing.

The proceedings concerned a motion to halt all construction and busing programs pending an appeal of a detailed desegregation order issued in Detroit Aug. 18 by U.S. District Court Judge Robert DeMasco.

The case has been entangled in the courts for five years. It has gone all the way up to the U.S. Supreme Court, back down to the lower federal courts and is now on its way through the appeals court again.

The appellate court already has set a December date to hear that appeal, but restricted itself Wednesday to a limited examination of the request brought by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

George Rounell, representing the Detroit Board of Education, questioned the need for the NAACP's request for a stay of construction projects pending an appeal of Judge DeMasco's ruling. Rounell said an order by the district court judge, establishing criteria before construction could begin, effectively screens any wrongdoing.

An NAACP attorney, Louis Lucas, however, questioned the criteria established by Judge DeMasco, saying they were improperly directed only toward black students.

Lucas also suggested that if construction plans were allowed to proceed, the NAACP might be forced to appeal those decisions.

"This court is already very busy and cannot concern itself with running the Detroit school system on a day-to-day basis," warned Judge Edwards.

Lucas also expressed concern that city buses might be contracted out before a definite solution is reached in the case.

The appellate court, which took Wednesday's proceedings under advisement, will hear an appeal in December of the district court ruling, which prohibited massive busing as a means of desegregating the schools. DeMasco rejected plans submitted by the NAACP and the school board, saying both called for an excess of busing.

The school board has since submitted a new plan, which calls for the busing of some 25,000 students, sending thousands to new schools by alternating boundary lines and putting sixth graders into middle schools and ninth graders into high schools.

Flood Disaster Centers Opening For 16 Counties

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Federal disaster aid will begin flowing to 16 rain and flood-damaged Michigan counties this week for the 10th time in two decades.

Damage estimates from the Aug. 21-Sept. 6 downpour are $1.3 million for private property and $1.32 million for public property.

Three "one-stop" disaster centers have been set up for people to get all or most of their questions answered by state, federal and local officials.

President Ford declared the counties as disaster areas at the request of Gov. William Milliken.

The disaster aid centers and the counties they will serve are: —Muskegon County Building for Muskegon, Oceana, Newaygo, Ottawa and Allegan counties.

—Mount Pleasant's Isabella County Building for Isabella, Oshtemo, Clare, Mecosta, Midland, Gratiot and Montcalm counties.

—Corunna's Old County Building for Shiawassee, Saginaw, Genesee and Ingham counties.

The Muskegon and Corunna centers will be open Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. The Mount Pleasant center is scheduled for operation next Monday and Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., State Police said. The disaster declaration makes persons in the areas eligible for low interest loans, assistance programs such as clean-up help, other aid such as housing and, in some cases, direct cash grants.

Most of the 16 counties were among the 20 that also suffered an estimated $78.46 million in agricultural damage during the same period, Milliken said.

The rains a month ago damaged an estimated 1,188 homes, 38 businesses and 4,100 farms, along with roads, drainage channels, dams, dikes, parks and buildings under construction, Milliken's letter said.

Van Buren Jail Inmates Going To School

PRISONERS ARE LEARNING WHILE THEY SERVE

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Prisoners at the Van Buren county jail are getting a chance to learn while they serve their time.

In conjunction with a program sponsored by the Paw Paw community school's office, inmates for the last three weeks have been taking classes at the jail two days a week. Some are working toward a high school diploma, others are just seeking to improve their skills.

"I've been very pleased with the way things have gone," said Sheriff Richard Stump. "You couldn't ask for a better bunch. We find that some of the trussys are even studying outside the classes."

Stump said present enrollment numbers between 11-15 men, and that in order to qualify, a prisoner must have at least 90 days to serve.

"We feel anytime shorter than that would be ineffective," he explained. "They're all very carefully screened and they know that if there's any monkey business they'll be out immediately."

The classes are taught by Mrs. Ruth Miller, who is an instructor in Paw Paw's adult education program. Basic English and math, both of which are required for a high school diploma, are the initial subjects being taught, she said.

"The men couldn't be more cooperative," Mrs. Miller noted. "Of course for many it's a chance to get out of their cells. But I've found a lot of these guys will work right through the breaks I give them."

While most of the prisoners in the class are in their late teens or early 20's, one student is 39.

Mrs. Miller said there is a wide variance in the degree of education.

"It's very similar to what I find in the adult night school program," she noted. "A few people only completed elementary school and some have already graduated."

Some men will be able to complete the high school program; others will have to finish adult classes when they get out of jail, Mrs. Miller said.

"It will be interesting to see how many decide to go after they get out," she added.

In addition to formal instruction, Mrs. Miller said she also brings the men outside reading material.

"I've had a lot of requests for books not related to our classroom work — everything from small engines to the Babylonians."

Stump said that when prisoners are lodged in the jail they are asked if they can read or write, but even among those who say they are literate, there is a wide variance. He said even some who are high school graduates, particularly from southern schools, read only at an elementary school level.

The sheriff said he hopes to develop a questionnaire which will give the jail staff a better picture of what other programs are needed.

"I'd been wanting to do something like this (the classroom program) for some time, but it was always a question of money," Stump said.

The present program was worked out in cooperation with William Carrington, assistant director of the Paw Paw adult education program. The school district is reimbursed for its costs through state aid, in much the same manner as its adult programs.

JAIL PROGRAM: Van Buren Sheriff Richard Stump and Mrs. Ruth Miller, a teacher for Paw Paw adult education program, look over materials used in new program at jail. Prisoners serving sentences of at least 90 days have opportunity to take classes in jail two days a week, either for self-improvement or to get high school diploma.

Black Students Win Scholarships

By AL AREND
Staff Writer

Three southwestern Michigan area high school students have been named among 1,400 semi-finalists in the 12th annual National Achievement Scholarship program for Outstanding Negro

Students.

DELBERT L. MINISSE, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Minissee, 3141 Detroit road, Niles. A senior at Andrews academy, Berrien Springs, he plans on attending Andrews university to major in medicine or theology. President of his senior class, Minissee, enjoys intramural football and basketball and runs his own cleaning and landscape gardening service company.

BERNICE C. LUCAS, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lucas, 7281 East 32nd avenue, Covert, is a senior at Covert high school. She plans on attending college, but has not decided on a major. She enjoys playing volleyball and is a member of the band and girl's track team. Her father is a member of the Covert school board.

MANUEL E. ROBINSON, 17, son of Mrs. Mary Flowers, route 3, box 117, Valley road, Decatur, is a senior at Decatur high school. Robinson is undecided on a college but would like to study law. He is president of the student council, member of the photography club and yearbook staff.

The semi-finalists were among more than 50,000 black students who requested consideration in the achievement program at the time they took the 1974 preliminary scholarship aptitude/National Merit Scholarship qualifying test.

To advance in the competition for scholarships, the semi-finalists must qualify as finalists by meeting additional requirements. Semi-finalists must be endorsed and recommended for scholarship consideration by their high school principals, present records of high academic performance, confirm their qualifying test scores on a second examination, and submit other information about themselves and their extracurricular attainments.

Over 1,000 semi-finalists are expected to become finalists and will be competing for some 500 achievement scholarships to be awarded next spring.

About 300 of the awards to be offered in 1976 will be National Achievement $1,000 scholarships. Some 200 awards will be renewable college or corporate sponsored four-year awards, worth up to $1,500 per year.

In the 11 annual achievement scholarship competitions for blacks completed (1965-75), over 3,000 black students have won awards valued at more than $10.8 million. Currently over 1,500 of these winners are enrolled in some 230 colleges.

Seiler Sales Is New AMC-Jeep Dealer In South Haven

HANDSOME EXTERIOR: Jack Seiler, owner of Seiler Auto Sales, South Haven, stands outside newly remodeled and expanded dealership. Seiler recently became dealer for AMC/Jeep, and firm now offers full line of new AMC/Jeep products as well as used cars. Dealership's show room and offices are located at left, with service garage in center and new clean-up department at right. Firm also has body shop and rust proofing area. Firm will continue to sell Subaru autos too. Open house is slated for Friday, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (Staff photos)

POPULAR MODEL: Jack Seiler stands by American Motors' popular wide small Pacer inside new showroom of Seiler Auto Sales, South Haven. Pacer production hit 100,000 mark in mid-September, eight months after it was introduced, marking first time in AMC history that a totally new car achieved such a figure in less than a year. Since Jan. 13, when first Pacer came off assembly line, demand has exceeded availability, and daily output has been increased twice to its current level of 800 cars.

Bangor Will Salute Apple This Weekend

BANGOR — The Bangor Apple festival will be held this Friday and Saturday, Oct. 3 and 4, according to David Christian, a festival organizer.

Highlighting the festival will be a parade on Saturday at 1 p.m. and the selection of a Van Buren county Apple queen from six contestants at 2:30 p.m.

The festival will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on both days, said Christian.

A carnival with adult and kiddie rides, pony rides, and numerous booths and displays will be set up on Railroad street.

There will be apple pie eating contests and apple hobbing throughout the two day festival.

Fruit growers will display and sell apples along the sidewalk.

Among the parade entries will be Maria Bucks, Miss Michigan Apple queen, Julie Wilkens, last year's Van Buren Apple queen, the Bangor high school marching band, baton girls, floats, antique cars, clowns, and pony carts.

The apple queen contest will take place on Main street following the parade. If it rains, the judging will move to the Bangor high school auditorium.

Benefit Football Game Oct. 11 At Lawrence

LAWRENCE — A benefit football game between area police officers and Lawrence teachers and alumni will be Saturday, Oct. 11, at 8 p.m., according to Richard Hill, a radio operator at the state police post in Paw Paw. The Herald-Palladium incorrectly reported yesterday that the game was to be played tonight. The game is to be played at the Lawrence high school field, Hill said.

'Shrine Of Glory' For Greece Becomes International Project

By PAUL ANASTASSIADES
Associated Press Writer
ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Acropolis, the 2,500-year-old shrine to the glory of ancient Greece, is getting help from home and abroad in a major face-lifting effort described as "the world's greatest marble restoration operation."

has appropriated $1.6 million for repair work, and a UNESCO team is due soon to discuss the work and further funds. Dantas said the second international Antiquity Preservation Congress, to be held in Athens next year, is expected to approve additional foreign technical and economic assistance for the project. The historical and architectural gems on the ancient hill have been left in ruins by the ravages of war, time, foreign occupation and looters. The Parthenon, the temple to the goddess Athena built between 447 and 432 B.C., was used as living quarters for prostitutes in the 3rd century B.C. and as a gunpowder magazine during the Ottoman occupation. Now cracks and erosion threaten the ruins. The limestone hill has open underground rifts and caves, seeping water and cracks and fissures from earthquakes, lesser earth movements and temperature changes. The National Geological and Metal Ore Research Institute is preparing a program of remedies. Metal supports placed inside and outside the columns have expanded and contracted, damaging the stone they were supposed to protect. Dantas said they probably will be replaced by supports in which costly non-corrosive titanium will be a major component. Temporary wooden supports will also be erected. Other threats to the marble are erosion by polluted air and rain water, photochemical reactions provoked by neon lighting, vibration from aircraft flying over the area and the shoes of the 2 million tourists who visit the hill annually.

The government three years ago had wooden planks laid on the Propylae, or entrance to the hill, and three months ago it barred visitors from the interior of the Parthenon.

Five months ago, the government concluded an all-out effort was necessary and appointed rescue committees. Dantas said that so far they have concentrated on locating the danger spots. "The fight to save the Acropolis and its monuments will be like a delicate operation in need of specialized treatment," Dantas said. "False diagnosis could be fatal after serious mistakes already committed in the past."

Topographers, geologists, engineers, sculptors, chemists and even gamma-ray studies are being used "to establish a thorough file on every single piece of marble on the Acropolis," he continued. "Such a task of marble restoration has never been faced anywhere in the world, at least on such a scale."

Environmentalists Sue To Block Plant By Lake

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A Muskegon environmental group is suing to block construction of a $50 million steel mill along Muskegon Lake. Save Our Shoreline Inc. filed the federal court suit against North Star Steel Co. of St. Paul, Minn. The environmental groups seek a court order barring construction permanently "or at the very least until all laws and provisions which are applicable have been complied with." Robert VanLente, chairman of the group, said the suit was filed because the lakeside site for the mill would be destructive environmentally. The suit was assigned to U.S. District Court Judge Wendell Miles although no hearing date was set. The city of Muskegon is at least one step closer to getting the mill because of weekend negotiations with the U.S. Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife. City officials and representatives of the bureau met in Minneapolis, Minn., to iron out objections to North Star's request to fill 57 acres of Muskegon Lake shoreline where the plant would be built. The two conditions were that North Star must build two jetties into the lake for a fish nursery and provide public access to the shoreline adjacent to where the site of the plant.

Michigan's Women's Chief To Be On Job

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Women will have to decide for themselves whether to hold a one-day strike Oct. 29 as urged by the National Organization of Women (NOW), the head of the Michigan Women's Commission said this week. "Women aren't sheep. They shouldn't let anybody force them to do anything," said Clare Daniels, the commission chairperson. Mrs. Daniels said she will be at her job as an accountant in her Muskegon home the day of the proposed strike. Mrs. Daniels said she has been in business too long — since the Depression — to withhold her services as a protest for women's rights. NOW has urged a nationwide strike to show how much the nation depends on its female workers. "What they want to prove is that women are necessary to the economy and I think we have proven that through the years," said Mrs. Daniels, former legislative director for the 5,600-member Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

They Room In A Tent

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — A housing shortage at Oregon State University has pushed four students into a tent until an apartment turns up.

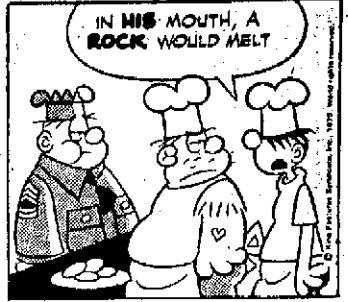

One of the four, Jim Haug, 22, Milwaukee, Wis., who wants to study civil engineering at OSU, says he isn't going to enroll until he finds something more permanent.

"I can't do this too long, especially when the rains come," said Haug.

DOUGLAS STILL WORKING

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice William O. Douglas, approaching age 77 and largely confined to a wheelchair, has begun his 37th term on the Supreme Court with a public display of judicial activity.

These facts do not support your view that the Bonus Bid system of OCS leasing has resulted in domination by major producers.

CONTENDS SCHOOL'S STORY CHANGES

Monday, Oct. 6, is another school millage vote in the Coloma School District, which is becoming a sixty day event since the school board will not accept the negative response by the voters.

How can the voters have any faith or confidence in the board when the superintendent publishes conflicting stories in the press such as; the original request for the 1.26 mills was to cover the increased cost of utilities as published in this paper 6-10-75. This item is no longer mentioned. In the 8-19 issue the superintendent illustrated two ways the budget could be cut. One by cutting the fat out of the budget would save $84,000 which would be $19,000 more than the expected $65,000 the 1.26 mills would bring in. The second was by not filling four teaching positions, and three management posts. Was this done? They hired seven new teachers; this year and these seven positions would have saved more than the 1.26 mill would generate. Are the three management posts absolutely necessary?

For the administration office, there are 160 teachers on the payroll and 3052 students which represents one teacher for less than every 20 students. Well knowing this is not broken down to actual class size, but does illustrate there are enough teachers in the system.

The school board and administration must remember they are not alone in this austere economic period, we must all tighten our belts.

The last publication on this issue was 9-25-75 in which the superintendent forgot all budgets and actually issued a threat to the parents and students by cutting the activities of athletics, band and busing. In other words, he will not move to cut his budget. If the voters do not give him what he wants he will retaliate against the students.

If Melinda Stibals' article of 9-14-75, as a member of the teaching staff reflects the sense of values of the entire administration, we properly owners are in serious trouble. To quote: "If money spent on non-nutritious food in one year, I could build a physical education facility for them." To accomplish this each of the 3052 students would have to spend $819, or $4.50 for each of the 180 days of the school year, to obtain the $2,500,000 required for the facility. Again to quote, "The fifth grade will be one teacher short." Have teachers become so specialized as to teach a specific grade only in elementary classes? With 160 teachers, one leaving should be no catastrophe.

With less than 15% of the 6000 registered voters participating in school election, there must be more than apathy as the cause. Could it be inconvenience as the district covers a very large area and is serviced by one polling place at the extreme Eastern edge of the district?

Wherever you live in the Coloma School District, vote on October 6. Vote your choice, but vote!

Airborne Auto Lands On Boat

ALPENA, Mich. (AP) — A Rogers City man was cited for careless driving Wednesday after he drove his car onto a boat, according to Alpena County deputies.

Walter Brage, 23, apparently fell asleep while driving his car down M-32 near Alpena, deputies said.

Brage's car evidently left the road, hit a ditch and became airborne before landing on top of a boat that was parked in a driveway.

Deputies said the man told them he was asleep throughout the entire episode, only to be awakened by investigating deputies.

Both the boat and auto were described as total losses.

Antics Predate Stardom

Cloris Always A Madcap

JUDY: Liza gets upset.

ZIEGFELD: All about Flo.

Q. Is Cloris Leachman's zaniness just a publicity act? She does such crazy things. W.T., La Jolla, Calif.

A. Cloris has always been a madcap, characterized by her puns as "lovably crazy." Her antics are legend in Hollywood and they have nothing to do with publicity — she was that way long before stardom singled her out.

Q. What happens to Charles Revson's fortune? Will his ex-wife get anything? — H.D., Queens, N.Y.

A. Revson's multimillions go to his sons, John and Charles Jr. (by a former marriage) to Johanna de Knecht, insuring the continuance in family hands of Revlon, which he started in 1932. Revson gave his third wife, Lyn Fisher Shoresky, a generous $9 million divorce settlement plus several million in jewelry last year. The story goes that Revson divorced Lyn quite pragmatically after doctors told him he had less than two years to live. He wanted to forestall any possibility of her becoming his widow and rocking his empire's boat.

PEOPLE

By Robin Adams Sloan

glamorous item coming up in the Mike Frankovich-Bill Self "special" about the six women in "Impresario" Flo Ziegfeld's life. And guess what? One of them was his mother-in-law!

Q. Is Liza Minnelli offended by the many books now about her mother, or does she think any of them have merit? — C.V., Red Bank, N.J.

A. Of the proliferating Judy Garland biographies, Liza says, "Most of them upset me so, I just don't read them. The only good one and the only true one is the Gerold Frank book 'Judy.' It's as accurate as you can get without having been there."

Q. Is it true that Sir Laurence Olivier is dying of cancer? — B.U. Toronto, Canada.

A. Lord Olivier has been cured of rectal cancer and seems OK. He will return to the screen in director John Schlesinger's "The Marathon Man," which starts shooting this fall.

HOLY MOSES! A furor has broken out in Europe over an ad for Jesus Jeans which show a semi-Biblical inscription printed on a shapely behind: "If you love me follow me." The Vatican and Britain's anti-porn campaigners object to the jeans and are trying to stop the ad in Italy, England, America and France.

Today In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, Oct. 2, the 275th day of 1975. There are 90 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1919, President Woodrow Wilson suffered a stroke, completely paralyzing the left side of his body.

On this date: In 1780, the British officer who negotiated Benedict Arnold's attempt to surrender West Point, Major John Andre, was hanged as a spy.

In 1804, the people of England were being mobilized to resist invasion by Napoleon Bonaparte.

In 1869, the Indian nationalist leader, Mohandas Gandhi, was born.

In 1889, the first Pan American Conference was held in Washington.

In 1941, in World War II, German armies launched an all-out drive against Moscow.

In 1967, the first black to sit on the U.S. Supreme Court, Thurgood Marshall, was sworn in.

Ten years ago: Indonesia's

President Sukarno made a broadcast in Jakarta calling for restoration of order after a thwarted Communist-led attempt to overthrow the Indonesian government.

Five years ago: President Richard M. Nixon received an enthusiastic reception on a visit to Madrid, Spain.

One year ago: The U.S. House of Representatives sharply cut the transitional funds requested for Nixon's return to private life.

Today's birthdays: Comedian Groucho Marx is 80 years old. Writer and film critic Rex Reed is 35.

Thought for today: There is one thing stronger than all the armies in the world, and that is an idea whose time has come — Victor Hugo, French writer, 1802-1885.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, a British supply ship bound for Boston, the Prince George, was seized when it entered the Portsmouth, N.H. harbor by mistake.

This is it. The Ring that tells the story of her life!

The New "Genuine Stone"

FAMILY RING

It's a symbol of your happy Family Circle. Mother, Dad, and each one of your children is represented by a birthstone. The size of your family decides how many birthstones you order. Each ring is custom-made to your individual order.
